NOTES OF GRANGES.

Items of Interest Contributed by Editor A. T. Lilley.

HISTORICAL SOCIETY WORK.

Grangers as a Body Should Be Interested in This Movement—What One Man is Doing for the Grange—Agricultural Education Necessary.

(All communications to this column should be addressed to A. T. Lilley, LeRoy, Pa.)

One or more members of more than one-half of the granges in this county already aid in the effort to place articles of interest in the county museum. A list showing that each grange has some one or more to represent the good work is desired. Every patron ought to be interested in this school of local history aided by the object lesson of art and natural history. It is true that every person in the county ought to be interested in this county work, yet it is also true that the greater part of the people are directly interested in the products of the soil where nature repeats its history with or without the aid of man. Nature prepares its own history and man may read much of it if he only will. The most ready reader of this history ought to be the one who tills the soil and it is also true that the fitting thing for the farmer to do is to belong to the grange.

Although this is the busy season of the year for the farmer it is pleasing to know that the most of the Bradford county grangers have regular meetings with full attendance.

For amusement and instruction the lecturer of each grange might ask each patron to bring forest leaves to the grange to test members, knowledge of the different forrest timbers. It is certain that at least 50 kinds may be found in the county.

The State zoologist is sending out bulletins that will be of most practical benefit to the farmer if he will read them and endeavor to follow instructions.

Cobb's speller, Dobell's arithmetic, Dwight's school geography, Kirk's grammar, the English reader and the old stone slate had their day and probably suiter the times but they would not do today.

Among the many good things noticed in connection with the work of the Bradford County Historical society, is the readiness of the many to do what can be done to increase its value, both by single effort and in a co-operative way. The importance of history gathering and saving is made manifest by the zeal of many active writers. The object lessons of the museum are highly appreciated and the many additions to the curious and scientific specimen show an earnest and increasing interest in the object of the members of the society. Many have aided in procuring material for the log house, which is equipped with the furniture and surroundings of pioneer times; some have furnished the society with many relics of the civil war; the relics of the Indian are being remembered; the rock-bound history of the rocks is being prepared for ready reading while the many curios incident to a local museum are being placed where they may be looked upon by the people interested.

The State Master of Oregon says: I wish to call attention to the great work that is being done in the interest of agriculture by the Hon. David Lubin, a large farmer and merchant of California and New York. He has been instrumental in inducing the King of Italy to call an International Agriculture Conference, in the interest of the farmers of the world. This call has been responded to by many nations, and such a conference is held in Rome. W. F. Hill, Master Pennsylvania State Grange, will represent his state in this gathering. Mr. Lubin is a member of the Grange and is known in all parts of the United States by reason of his efforts to secure an export bounty in the interest of farmers. He is also engaged in studying the workings of the Rieffensen co-operative banking system, which has been successful in several foreign countries, with a view to introducing the same in this country. I feel that it is the duty of this State Grange to pass resolutions of commendation, and confidence in Bro. Lubin, as a slight acknowledgment of the work he is doing.

A wider range of experience and observation would cause me to lay more stress upon the subject of agricultural education than ever before. I wish to repeat all that I have said in former addresses in regard to Nature studies in our public schools, and say to you that the work of the Grange is bearing fruit, as I understand our State Board of Education is willing to arrange for this course of study with all districts which so desire. These studies will interest the young in the wonderful problems of Nature, and cause them to think more of country life and open the way for the study of those greater questions that will come la[illegible] The farmer shall know more in regard to the economical production of his crops and stock, and all branches of his business.

It is the duty of the State to place within the reach of every farmer's son and daughter the opportunity to secure a practical education that will fit them to become successful farmers and farmers' wives, and will enable them to solve the problems that daily arise in life.

ULSTER PLAYING WINNING BALL.

Troy and Canton Both Defeated Last Week By Large Scores.

The Ulster baseball team defeated Troy on the Troy fair ground on Thursday last by a score of 12 to 9. The game was loosely played, much of it being due to the severity of Troy's umpire. Ulster batted the ball all over the field and fielded in nice shape and outplayed Troy in every department of the game, and should have won by a much larger score.

Sherman and Denmark were the battery for Troy, while Davidson and McQueen were in the points for Ulster. Sherman for Troy was hit hard, Ulster having 3 triples and 5 doubles off him while Davidson was effective throughout holding Troy to 5 hits and striking out 10 men.

The score by innings:

Troy	0 3 0 0 2 0 1 0 3—9
Ulster	1 2 0 5 1 2 0 0 1—12

The game at Canton on Friday was played before a large crowd and was very interesting. Canton played nice clean game, and were defeated owing to the better team work of Uister by a score of 12 to 5.

Hartranft and Gleckner were the battery for Canton, Johnson and McQueen acting in the same capacity for Ulster. Both pitchers were in good form, but Johnson kept the hits well scattered and was very effective in tight places, while Hartranft was hit when hits meant runs. The game was free from all "kicking" as umpire Rising was just to both teams and his decisions were first class.

The score by innings:

Canton	0 2 0 0 0 0 0 0 3—5
Uister	1 2 1 0 4 1 0 2 1—12

WYALUSING ROAD.

Colonial Construction Company to Continue the Building.

The Colonial Construction company will continue the building of the New York, Pennsylvania and Southwestern railroad, and the work will be pushed to an early completion, according to manager D. E. Baxter of the railroad, says the Binghamton Press.

This is the result of the conference that has been in session in the office of Manager Baxter in New York, and all the differences that were brought before the meeting have been satisfactorily adjusted, it is alleged.

Manager Baxter made the following statement by long distance 'phone from New York:

"The matters that have arisen regarding the construction of the New York, Pennsylvania and Southwestern railroad have been harmoniously adjusted, and the work will be continued at once. An agreement has been reached that is perfectly satisfactory to all parties concerned. What that agreement is I am not at liberty to say, for it concerns personally only those interested, but this I will say, that the Colonial Construction Company will continue the work of constructing the railroad and there will be no further hitches of any kind. The completion of the road is now a certainty, and we have every reason to believe that the road will be completed within the time specified in the contract."

WYSOX MAN CHOSEN.

George Smith, Formerly of That Place, Now in Luzerne County.

George Smith, formerly of Wysox, this county, was nominated for one of the county commissioners of Luzerne county at the Republican convention held at Wilkesbarre on Wednesday of last week. Mr. Smith received 279 of the 308 votes cast in the convention and received all of the 44 votes cast by the Wilkesbarre delegation. Of him the Wilkesbarre Record says:

"Republicans of Luzerne county have shown excellent judgment in placing a man of his business capacity and integrity on the ticket. For a quarter of a century he has been one of Wilkesbarre's leading merchants, being the senior member of the firm of Smith & Frantz, wholesale grocers. Business men of Wilkesbarre, irrespective of politics endorsed his candidacy and the Democrats are of the opinion that he will carry Wilkesbarre by an overwhelming majority. For six years Mr. Smith has looked after the financial affairs of Wilkesbarre and he has done it in a manner that has met with the approval of the taxpayers. His experience as the head of the finance committee of councils will serve him in the office of the county commissioner."

Dry Goods Stores Close Early.

The following dry goods merchants of Towanda have agreed to close their stores at 6 o'clock each evening except Saturday, from July 5 to Sept. 2: B. Loewus, J. W. Swingle, N. Loewus, Rooker & Bu[illegible]es, D. T. Evans, N. Susm[illegible]

HOSPITAL'S AFFAIRS.

Trustees of Sayre Institution Meet at That Place.

THE TRUSTEES AND OFFICERS.

Committee Appointed to Procure Addition to Hospital in Order to Separate Patients Having Septic Diseases Reports of the Year.

The regular annual meeting of the board of directors of the R. A. Packer hospital was held in that institution on Tuesday afternoon of last week. The following directors were present: A. I. Decker, William E. Johnson, Rush J. Thomson, Henry Streeter, Louis Piollet, Hon. A. C. Fanning, Joseph W. Bishop, Henry D. Titus, Martin H. Sawtelle, Hon Mial E. Lilley, and H. F. Maynard.

The treasurer's report was listened to and ordered placed on file as was also the report of Dr. C. H. Ott, superintendent and surgeon in chief of the hospital. The report of the latter was an exhaustive resume of the work done in the hospital for the past year.

Following the election of officers the matter of building an addition to the hospital was brought up and discussed at length. For some years the officials at the hospital have felt the necessity of an antiseptic ward. Under present conditions it is necessary to place patients suffering with septic diseases in the same wards with other patients, and the building of another ward would obviate this and give the officials is a chance to separate them.

The matter was disposed of by the appointment of a committee consisting of Hon. Mial E. Lilley, Hon. A. C. Fanning and Hon. Louis Piollet to look into the matter and see if ways and means can be provided for this purpose, and also to devise some method by which the hospital debt can be provided for.

Officers for the ensuing year were elected as follows: President, Henry Streeter; vice president, Bert Hayden; secretary, Fred J. Krom; treasurer, Martin H. Sawtelle; superintendent, physician and surgeon, Charles H. Ott, M. D.

Board of trustees: E. P. Wilbur, Abram I. Decker, Bert Hayden, Rev. John Costello, William E. Johnson, M. D., George M. Cady, M. D., O. D. Kinney, Levi Curtis, Rush J. Thomson, Henry Streeter, Rodney A. Mercur, Louis Piollet, Frederick E. Lyford, C. W. Kinney, J. H. Turrell, B. W. Jennings, A. C. Fanning, Robert H. Sayre, James N. Weaver, Charles S. Maurice, Joseph W. Bishop, John M. Raum, J. K. Newell, Henry G. Merriam, J. T. Sawyer, Henry D. Titus, I. P. Shepard, William T. Goodnow, Martin H. Sawtelle, E. F. Kizer, L. T. Hoyt, Millard P. Murray, Mial E. Lilley, Willard Kells, H. F. Maynard.

Executive committee: Henry Streeter, Bert Hayden, James N. Weaver, William E. Johnson, M. D., Henry G. Merriam, Joseph W. Bishop, M. H. Sawtelle, Rodney A. Mercur, H. F. Maynard.

Auditing committee: A. I. Decker, F. E. Lyford.

Inspecting committee: Willard Kells, Louis Piollet.

The twentieth annual report of the treasurer shows that for the fiscal year just ended the hospital authorities have received from all sources the sum of $20,188.39. Of this amount $1,210.27 was raised by the various hospital auxilaries; $8,208.77 was paid by patients for board and treatment; the Lehigh Valley railroad company for professional services rendered to injured employes paid $1,677.75; the Sayre Land company, $200.00; Jennings Bros. and employes, $556.42; Trexler and Terrell Lumber company, $200.00; employes of the Trexler and Terrell Lumber company, $110.25, while the remainder came from churches, young people's societies, interest on bonds and the state's appropriation.

The total disbursements for the year just ended were $21,344.58. This amount was expended for provisions, medical supplies, furnishings and various other necessaries, including the salaries of the superintendent, matron, and officers of the institution.

From the foregoing it will be seen that last year there was a deficit of $1,156.19.

The total liabilities of the hospital are $13,200.00, while the assets are $3,620.95, leaving an actual indebtedness on May 31, 1905, of $9,579.05.

Many Smoke Cigarettes.

A Waverly correspondent claims that there are many boys at that place from 10 to 16 years of age who are inveterate cigarette smokers. There are a number in Towanda who use the deadly coffin nails and court all manner of eye and nerve diseases. An anti-cigarette league here has a large membership and will doubtless prevent many boys from forming the habit of smoking cigarettes which are generally admitted to be exceedingly harmful, especially to grow[illegible]

WILL KNOX ASSUME LEAD IN STATE POLITICS?

Great Chance for Him as Leader If He Will Undertake It.

In commenting on the downfall of Insurance Commissioner Durham who with United States Senator Penrose has dictated the Republican politics of the state since Senator Quay's death, the Pittsburg Dispatch says:

If Senator Knox were disposed to enter actively into the political game he has an opportunity now such as seldom comes to any man. He is free from entangling alliances with either the disrupted Philadelphia crowd or the men who have been largely instrumental in forcing their overthrow.

Both sides would gladly turn to such a man as involving on the one side an easy "let down" and on the other the assurance that the politics for which they have been contending would be carried out to their fullest extent by the Senator.

Moreover, Senator Knox has the personal confidence of the President, who no doubt would be pleased to consider the gentleman from Pittsburg as his chief representative in Pennsylvania.

The difficulty about Senator Knox is, however, that up to the present, at least, he has manifested not the slightest desire to take an active part in the politics of the State. Perhaps with the Durham-Penrose combination eliminated, he may take a different view of the situation

Capitol Hill, however, is anticipating the early return of John P. Elkin to the field of active politics. There is no doubt but that if he were to quit the Supreme bench he might easily and quickly become the foremost man in the organization.

Elkin is especially popular with the country politicians who have suffered most from the arbitrary methods of Durham and Penrose; and they would gladly rally to his standard if he were to give them the slightest encouragement.

Whatever the ultimate adjustment of affairs the "new deal" in Pennsylvania politics comes much nearer to being an accomplished fact than anyone could have imagined a few hours ago.

IMPROVEMENT SOCIETY.

What Is Being Done in the Organization Here.

The regular monthly meeting of the Village Improvement society was held at the court house Monday afternoon. The treasurer reported that there was $50 on hand. A commitee from the street committee was appointed to meet council and ask for certain needed improvements, among them a guard rail at the flatiron near the Episcopal church. The society objects to the bill board on North Main street for the reason that papers from it are not kept picked up.

The attention of the sanitary committee of the society has been called to the conditions existing near Shepard Bristol's in Towanda township and the matter will be looked into. The humane committee reported that a juvenile court existed in Bradford couny and that some 14 cases had come under it and been disposed of. It is hoped that a permanent probation officer may be secured. Six new members have joined the society. The street committee will hold another clean up day after the Fourth.

RAILROAD MEN COMING.

P., B. & E. People to Meet With Towanda Business Men's Association.

A special meeting of the Towanda Business Men's asociation will be held on Monday evening, July 10, for the purpose of meeting the promoters and financial backers of the Pittsburg, Binghamton and Eastern Railroad company. A party of the men interested in this line from Binghamton to Ansonia are to be in Towanda that day and it is hoped that a full attendance of the asociation may be had to meet them.

At a meeting of the executive committee of the Business Men's association President Mix was authorized to appoint a reception committee, and he has named the following gentlemen: Charles L. Tracy, D. T. Evans, J. A. Decker, M. E. Lilley, E. B. McKee, Ed Carter, jr., and Dr. F. J. Kingsley.

SMEATON—HUBLER.

Manager of Towanda Telephone Exchange Married at West Pittston.

George B. Smeaton, manager of the New York and Pennsylvania Telephone company in this place, was married on Wednesday afternoon of last week to Miss Catherine Hubler of West Pittston. The ceremony was performed at the home of the bride's parents, Dr. and Mrs. Hubler, at that place by Rev. Dr. Severson in the presence of the immediate relatives only. The couple were unattended. After refreshments were served Mr. and Mrs. Smeaton left for a wedding trip and upon their return will take up their residence in this place.

Mr. Smeaton and his bride both have a large number of friends in T[illegible] them well i[illegible]

TOWANDA WINS AGAIN

Fourth of July Game of Base Ball Was a Fine Contest.

DAY WAS A VERY QUIET ONE.

The Races at Athens and the Celebrations at Waverly and Wyalusing Took Many Towanda People Out of Town, and Quiet Reigned Supreme.

Towanda won the Fourth of July base ball game by defeating the Moxie team of Parsons by a score of 7 to 3 in an interesting game. Towanda practically won the game in the first inning by making four runs on one hit and not an error credited to the Moxies.

The Moxies were blanked in their half. Staub was first up for Towanda and got his base on balls. Lent sacrificed and Klinko got first on fielder's choice and Staub made third on it. Madigan got first on fielder's choice in an attempt to cut off Staub at home, Staub scoring on slow fielding. Lynch went to first on attempt to head off Klinko at home, Klinko scoring. Putnam went out, first to third; Cunningham was hit, Backus hit safe and Madigan and Lynch scored. Cotter went out on a fly to catcher.

The Moxies got two runs in the third. Hughes and Shinsky scoring on Watkins hit between short and third. They made another in the fifth, Canavan scoring on a fielder's choice on Gill's hit which Putnam threw to second but Lynch did not get his man.

Towanda scored after the disasterous first to the Moxies, in the third. Madigan hit for two bases and scored on Lynch's hit. Towanda got one in the seventh. Klinko, Madigan and Lynch hit, Klinko scoring but Madigan went out at third. Putnam flied out to left. The locals made their last run in the eighth. Cunningham was hit by pitched ball and scored on Kline's single.

Backus pitched a nice game for Towanda, striking out eight men and allowing but six hits. Canavan got three strike outs and allowed eight hits. The catching of both Skinsky for the Moxies and Cunningham for Towanda was good. Aside from the first inning in which the visitors played a little dopey ball coupled with some hard luck they put up a fine game. Towanda played a much better game than the last as the tabulated score shows. There was an attendance of only about 400 paid admissions, although crabber alli and peanut row were well filled. Eugene Means umpired and gave good satisfaction on decisions.

THE ATHENS RACES.

Good Crowd Was Out to See the Sporting Events There.

There was a good crowd out at the Athens races Tuesday afternoon. Towanda horses were entered and W. G. Tracy, E. W. Elwell and B. F. Myer of this place acted as judges and J. G. Pratt as starter. The results of the races were as follows:

2:00 Class: Won by George Rex, driven by Cocoman of Towanda; Ned B., Sayre, second, Carrie Nation, Athens, third; Hazel P., Athens, fourth. Best time mile heats, 2:53.

2:33 Class: Won by Susie Hal, Elmira; DaCosta H., Cocoman, Towanda, second; Lost Billy, Athens, third; VanEette, Ithaca, fourth. Half mile heats, best time, 1:10.

2:25 Class: Miss Marygold, Ithaca, first; Mi[illegible]e, Marshall, Athens, second; La[illegible] Black, Cocoman, Towanda, third. Mile heats, best time, 2:26¾.

In the team races between teams owned by Albert McCraney of this place and Kitchen of Sayre, the latter's horses won in two straight heats.

Fourth Was Extremely Quiet.

Tuesday was the quietest Fourth of July in Towanda in years. There was nothing doing beside the ball game all day except the small firecrackers of the little folks. A great many Towanda people spent the day in Waverly and Wyalusing, where celebrations were held, and at the Athens races.

TOWANDA BANK DIVIDENDS.

Usual Amounts Divided Among Stockholders Payable July 1.

At their annual meeting on Monday of last week the board of directors of the First National Bank of Towanda declared the usual semi-annual dividend of five per cent, payable today. The last statement, made at the close of business May 31, shows a total of $1,191,536.22, and deposits subject to check of $297,641.42, and demand certificates of deposits $559,568.12.

The directors of the Citizens National Bank of Towanda declared the usual semi-annual dividend of three per cent. and carried to the surplus fund $5,000 The last statement of the Citizens shows a total business of $1,078,564.37, deposits subject to check of $322,503.87, and demand certificates of deposit of $419,171.02.

Both the Towanda banks are institutions any town may be proud of and their statements show a steady growth. Their dividends are declared with the regularity of clockwork.

The value of manure depends very largely upon what the stock is fed. Nitrogenous foods make far better fertilizer than do carbonaceous ones.

The Asiatic breeds of poultry are the only ones worth caponizing. To attempt this work with the small breeds is like trying to make beef critters out of Jersey steers.

There is no place on the farm where the manure can be so easily applied and where it will produce more lasting results than on the pasture and meadow land used in a five year rotation of crops.

A good many men complain about their clover killing out, when the fact is it dies because it has lived its allotted two years. The general rule is that after it produces a crop of seed it dies.

No man should talk about taking a summer vacation if he is owing a grocery bill. A man's first duty is to pay his way even if he has to wait for the undertaker to give him his first vacation trip.

The burden of testimony from plum growers is to the effect that where poultry is kept in the plum orchard the trees are more thrifty, the fruit of better size and freer from insect pests and the yield larger.

The greatest problem confronting the vast southwestern section of the country is to corral and store up the flood waters of that region which now work so much destruction. Every acre of desert upon which these waters can be placed is an undeveloped gold mine.

Crops which may be planted or sowed in July are not very numerous. It will do to put in a piece of buckwheat up to the 10th of the month, the Swede turnips may be sowed, a bit of corn planted for fodder, while millet will mature a crop sowed not later than the 1st of the month. The white and flat turnips can be sowed as late as the 1st of August.

The struggle between the steamboat and the locomotive as transportation agencies has continued now for thirty years, with the result that the locomotive has whipped out the steamboat to a finish. Water transportation will hold its own for all time, however, on the great lakes and in the lower Mississippi valley. The simple question of time required in transit has settled the contest in favor of the railway.

A reader of these notes in Michigan wrote us recently wishing to know if capons would do well in that state and requesting that we inform him as to the cost of a setting of eggs and where they could be obtained. This was a very embarrassing request to make and of necessity was disposed of by letter. It reminded us of the Englishman who went to Dakota to start a mule ranch some years ago and who was very particular about the selection of his breeding mules.

If everything went well with the farmer all the time—perfect weather conditions, no insect pests, no blight or rust, cheap and docile hired help, no summer hailstorm or untimely frost, no floods or droughts—there would still be trouble, for so many would want to farm and so much would be produced that the business would not pay. So it is just as well to regard the calamities which beset the business as really essential to its best interests. It is only the disagreeable features, the slavery connected with dairying, which make it the most profitable business on the farm.

If one wishes to raise a crop of onions next year, now is the time to commence and prepare the land devoted to the crop. Clean land—land free from weeds—is almost indispensable in securing success in onion culture. The field should be well fertilized and be plowed two or three times quite shallow to destroy every weed which makes its appearance this year. So treated, it will be in the finest possible condition next spring for the crop. The field selected should be as near level as possible, for a field which will wash is death to the crop. It is not possible to get the soil too rich for onions, but the fertilizer used needs to be well rotted and thoroughly incorporated with the soil.

It is queer how slow some men are in catching on to a good thing. We know of a farmer who has raised corn and oats to sell for twenty years, running his farm as a grain raising and grain selling farm, and, of course, running his land out. A year ago we persuaded him to sow twenty acres of his oat crop with clover, with the result that he has this year a magnificent crop of clover, and he brags more over that clover field than any crop he ever raised. And he has not got the best of it yet, for he will plow the second crop under in September and next year raise sixty bushels of corn to the acre on land which has not given him to exceed thirty bushels for the past twenty years. It is needless to say that he intends to sow clover every year from now on.

THE FARM HOME.

One of the most delightful farm homes and at the same time one of the best and most profitably conducted farms of the west is owned and personally conducted by a college graduate, while the owner's wife has been a club and society woman and is also a graduate of an eastern college. The home is a model of culture and refinement, while the farm work is done under a business system and management which would do credit to any large manufacturing establishment. Perhaps the curious thing in this case is that both the husband and wife are greatly in love with their work and tell us that under no circumstances would they exchange the freedom and independence which they enjoy for any kind of a city environment. The most beautiful homes in old England are found in the country, and England's best people live in them. It will be that same way in this country some day. Perhaps the greatest barrier in the way of country life today is the difficulty of obtaining reliable help, the working classes preferring city life even if they cannot make as much money.

There is always time to put tools where they belong when done using them, for if not done then twice as much time will be taken to hunt them up when next wanted. See if this isn't so.

The happy combination of oatmeal and whisky which developed the canny Scotsman does not work well in this country. The tendency is to reduce the oatmeal and increase the whisky ration, throwing the ration out of balance.

That farmer who holds up the right of way agent of a proposed trolley line so that the route is diverted to some other locality will live to regret his avarice as long as he lives. A man is a fool to turn down such a benefit when it comes his way.

The statement is made that the cultivated ginseng lacks the medicinal virtues prized by the heathen Chinee, and he will have none of it, so if one cannot sell plants or seeds to his neighbor, as we did Belgian hares awhile ago, the jig is up on ginseng.

There is very much in common between the rat and the sparrow. Both are imported pests of our modern civilization. Each possesses the power of reproduction in a most extraordinary degree, and each is evidently intended as food for other and higher forms of life.

If one will take the trouble to secure the cuttings of the male cottonwood tree, he will have trees which when grown are free from the very bad habit the female tree has of shedding its lint. The male tree is a very clean and handsome quick growing tree for all the northwestern prairie section.

One of the representatives of a farm separator company makes the claim for his machine that he can take hard well water and extract soft water from it by running it through his machine at a high rate of speed. Maybe he can, but we are inclined to think there is one thing he cannot extract from his machine, and that is the truth.

Each year emphasizes the need of a reliable labor supply to meet the needs of the United States, both on the farm, in the home, factory and mill. Labor has become so aggressive and dictatorial in matters entirely outside the mere matter of wages that if a man would enjoy life the less he has to do with hired help of any kind the better he is off.

Spraying the potato plant to prevent the blight has become almost a necessity with the successful potato grower. The spray is what is known as bordeaux mixture and if applied at the proper time will entirely prevent damage by blight. For the potato beetle, which will often finish up a crop in short order if not prevented, a solution of paris green is used.

There are not a few troubles connected with farming under an irrigating system. It is no such picnic as it is often represented to be. There is the partial or entire failure of the water supply and the monopoly of what water there may be by those who have the prior right up the stream; then there are many places where irrigation develops so much alkali in the soil as to make it utterly worthless for the purposes of cultivation. The truth is that we get only the rosy side of this method of farming.

The best things are not the largest ones by any means, and yet in the matter of fruits and vegetables the public will always pay more for big things than for the medium size. Size is almost always attained at the expense of flavor and begets coarseness of texture in both animal and vegetable tissue. The large potato is almost always hollow; same way with the big strawberry. The meat of a yearling steer, of the young pig and sheep, is vastly better than that of the ox, the old hog or wether. Size is all right for show, but not for real utility.

Here's an inquiry about goats—as to whether it will pay to keep them on a northwestern farm. The goat has but one use for that territory, and that to clean up brushy land, which it will do to the king's taste. A friend has a flock of Angoras, about 200—we saw them recently—and a forty acre brush pasture which they had just finished up in two years. The wool crop, or, rather, hair crop, brings him 30 cents a pound and averages about three pounds to the head. Enough twins are produced so that the does will double their number each year. They are not nice beasts to have around from our way of looking at it; would every way prefer sheep. They are all right in Arizona, Spain and Palestine.

THE SILO.

We are sometimes up against the A B C of some propositions which, it is supposed, the masses of the people are well informed on. Now, here is a reader wanting to know what the silo is, what it is for, what it will do, and all that, and, if it a good thing, why there are not more silos in use. For the benefit of this correspondent and possibly for some others we will say the silo is an air tight receptacle, as nearly as may be constructed, preferably circular in shape and with a height not less than twice its diameter. It is intended for the preservation of green forage of any sort, common field corn cut when just hard being the best. This forage is run through a cutter and cut into two or three inch lengths and solidly packed in the silo, where it undergoes a slight fermentation and keeps sweet an indefinite length of time. The product is termed silage, and it furnishes a nutritious and succulent food for all kinds of stock through the season when there is no green food. It is extremely palatable and is relished by all kinds of stock and is especially valued as a ration for the dairy cow. More good food can be obtained by this method and at a very small cost than by any other method known, as there is practically no waste whatever, and the silo may be filled regardless of the weather. The cost of the silo is, for the cheaper sort made of staves, about $1 per ton for its holding capacity. It is also built of metal, of cement, of brick and stones. If one is contemplating building one, the best thing to do is to visit some man who is using one successfully and then decide on a plan to suit the need. It may be said that all through the corn section of the west the silo will, if used, greatly increase the stock carrying capacity of the farm and will put to a good use what is now wasted in the shape of unused corn fodder in the fields. There is probably no one thing which would produce such a marked improvement on the average farm of the west as the building of a silo. In the east no up to date farmer thinks of farming without one.

SWEET CLOVER.

We believe that the sweet clover which grows so very thriftily and luxuriantly all along the railway rights of way through the west and which seems perfectly at home on a sterile gravel knoll or cinder heap or flood deposit of sand has a use not as yet given to it in an agricultural way. From the very manner and type of its growth under unfavoring conditions it is very plain that as a legume it is a great gatherer and storer of nitrogen in the soil equal if not superior to any one of this numerous family. It seems to be in no sense an intruder or soil brigand, as are most of our weeds, and is very easily confined to the odd places where it seems indigenous, never, so far as we have noticed, spreading into field or pasture. We believe that this clover might be sown to advantage on run-down soils, the crop to be pastured when it is young and tender, at which time stock will eat it, and later be allowed to make a big growth, as it will, and be then plowed under for a fertilizer, thereby greatly enriching the soil. We would like to see an experiment carried out with this plant on the lines indicated.

LOSS CAUSED BY INSECTS.

The reports from the agricultural department show in a very interesting manner the losses sustained by the average of insect pests on the crops of the country. Such loss amounts to more than 10 per cent of the annual value of crops raised and is given as follows:

	Value.	Amt. of loss.
Cereals	$2,000,000,000	$200,000,000
Hay and forage	520,000,000	53,000,000
Cotton	500,000,000	50,000,000
Tobacco	53,000,000	5,300,000
Truck crops	265,000,000	53,000,000
Sugars	50,000,000	5,000,000
Fruits	135,000,000	27,000,000
Farm forests	110,000,000	11,000,000
Miscellaneous crops	58,000,000	5,800,000
Animal products	1,750,000,000	175,000,000
Total	$5,451,000,000	$585,100,000
Natural forests and forest products		100,000,000

There is one peculiar thing about the strawberry, and that is just as soon as the season for them is about over the people want them worse than ever. What we need is an August strawberry.

You should make veal of the Jersey steer calf if for no other reason than that some sucker will try to make a beef critter out of him later on if you don't.

Just because once in six years a man can raise a good crop on a pond hole that is no reason why such ground should be cultivated. Far better keep it in grass or else tile it out.

There is no question about the prolificness of the Jersey red hog. Our experience with them is that they will average at least two pigs to the litter more than any other breed.

While nature is working overtime putting fruit on the orchard trees these days, insects are just as busy taking it off.

A Grim Tragedy.

is daily enacted in thousands of homes as Death claims, in each one, another victim of Consumption or Pneumonia. But when Coughs and Colds are properly treated, the tragedy is averted. F. G. Huntley of Oaklandon. Ind., writes. "My wife had the consumption, and three doctors gave her up. Finally she took Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, which cured her, and today she is well and strong." It kills the germs of all diseases. One dose relieves. Wyoming Seminary.

If you want to prepare your son or daughter for College it is important to patronize a first-class preparatory school. A successful college course depends upon a thorough preparation. Your rule should be "Fit for college in a first class fitting school."

The Wyoming Seminary because of its large equipment and experienced teachers is one of the very best preparatory schools in the country. It is an old established school of ever increasing growth and prosperity. It is a home school of refinement and spiritual culture. Its social life is carefully guarded. Its athletics are wisely directed. Its educational feature is salutary and beneficial in every way. It trains boys to be manly and girls to be womanly. The specialties of the school are college preparation, business, music, art and elocution. For catalogue address, L. L. Sprague, D. D. President, Kingston, Pa.

Boys Held For Trial for Taking Mail Lock for Their Rabbit Pen—Scranton Man Nearly One Hundred Years Old Suicided by Drowning.

Adan Novaka, of Pittston, was lodged in jail at Wilkesbarre while the police are endeavoring to ascertain what connection, if any, he had with the death of his brother, Philip Novaka, who was killed several weeks ago. It is said the brothers quarreled.

In trying to avoid running over a child, Lyman Berger, driver for the hook and ladder company at Maharoy City, while responding to an alarm of fire, pulled the horses to one side and struck a telegraph pole. He was thrown off but was not hurt. The apparatus was damaged.

United States Deputy Marshal P. D. Helms arrested Adam Bueisky, aged 11 years, and his brother, Michael, aged 12 years, and James Cuff, aged 13 years, on charge of breaking off the lock of a rural mail box in Ringtown. Commissioner Woltien, of Pottsville, held Adam Bueicky and Cuff under $300 bail for trial at the Philadelphia District Court next September. Adam Bueisky, it is said, wanted the lock for his rabbit pen.

Representative J. Lee Plummer, Republican candidate for state treasurer, does not appear to be affected by the rumor that he is to be taken off the ticket. He was at Harrisburg and when asked about the story said it was the first he had heard of it, and he did not see how it originated. Mr. Plummer does not anticipate an early opening of the campaign.

Four-year-old Annie Kinchar was run over and killed by a trolley car at Port Griffith.

PROHIBITION RESOLUTIONS.

Full Text of Those Passed at Recent County Convention.

The Prohibitionists of Bradford county in convention at Towanda, June 21, 1905, desire to express their appreciation of the labors of those who organized a party so that citizens who do not want a legalized liquor traffic could exercise their soverignty, and not be compelle to vote for that which they do not want. And we loyally join hands with the Prohibitionists of the state and nation, not only to perpetuate and use the organization to keep ourselves from being political suicides, but call upon them and pledge ourselves to the dedication of our lives, property and sacred honor to the task of bringing it into power in government. The obligation to be a Prohibitionist is great but the obligation to make the party successful is greater and imperative. We affirm and call the attention of our fellow citizens to the following:

First, We are not responsible that what is known as the Temperance Question has become and is the paramount political question of today. Government is for the restraint of evil and evil doers and to protect life and property. The legalizing of the liquor traffic is a perversion of government. The great question is—and the issue centers in the legislation or prohibition of the liquor traffic—Shall and can laws be enacted and enforced, or shall lawlessness be legalized and anarchy put in governmental forms?

Second, Reforms are spectacular and valueless as to permanent results. Of what use to turn out one set of rascals and get in another? It is the system that includes the rascality. The onward march of violence and graft is appalling except to those who will not see.

Third, Three murders in Bradford county within a year! If it were only the question of the enormous expense of the frantic effort to capture, convict and punish the criminals ought to open the eyes of the taxpayers to he crime of licensing a traffic that makes criminals. Not only the lives and property of the victims are not and cannot be protected, but the system of making criminals so rapidly that restraint and prevention are impossible is not a sane governmental policy and if done under democratic government in which the people are responsible it is degrading to all the people.

Fourth, Patriotism if degraded to the love of the flag right or wrong is treason. Loyalty to the flag demands that it shall never be used to protect wrong. Getting a revenue from and legalizing the liquor traffic is a dishonor to the American flag. True patriotism insists that this shall not be.

Fifth, The Prohibition party is the only chance an American citizen has to save his political honor. It has not come into power because this has not been understood. That it is not in power is the fault of every man who personally would not himself sell liquor. The continuance in power of any party that under any form legalizes the traffic now that it has thrust itself into politics to save its life is the manifestation of party tyranny and bondage and is the enslavement thereto of every citizen who does not personally want the liquor made and sold. Unless a majority of the soverign citizens of the United States are in favor of the liquor traffic the Prohibition party ought to be in power, and that it is not minority and not majority rule.

Sixth, We demand of Prohibitionists that they do not belittle this issue which is the "struggle between Heaven and Hell," and call upon all to join to rescue our country from this dishonor and peril.

DEATH ROLL OF A WEEK

Liddon Flick.

Liddon Flick, a prominent capitalist of Wilkesbarre and editor of The Times, died suddenly Sunday morning after a week's illness of cerebro hemorrhages. He was interested in a large number of companies in that city and elsewhere. He was born in Wilkesbarre in 1858, was graduated from Princeton in the class of 1882, and from the Columbia Law School in 1884. He was admitted to practice in the New York bar in 1885, and in this State the following year.

Inheriting a fortune from his father, he devoted his energies to financial development and was president of the Wyandotte Gas Company, of Bethlehem; the Vineland, N. J., Light & Power Company; the Peoples' Light Company of Pittston; he also organized and was a director in the Wyoming Valley Gas Company, of which he was vice-president; the Wilkesbarre "Times" Company, of which he was president and editor; the Consumers Gas Company; the Grand Opera House Company, of Wilkesbarre, the Muskegon, Mich., Traction, Gas & Electric Light Company; the Wilkesbarre Lace Company, and a number of other concerns.

He married Miss Henrietta M. Ridgely, of a prominent Baltimore family, in 1903. A daughter was born to them six weeks ago.

Death of Treat Shoemaker.

Malachi Treat Shoemaker died at his home at Windfall on Monday, June 26, aged 84 years. Mr. Shoemaker was one of the old settlers in that section, having been born at Kingston, Pa., April 25, 1821, and came to that place when but five years of age. He was mraried Nov. 25, 1848, to Aseneth Fleming, who still survives him. He leaves besides his wife, one brother, Abram Shoemaker, and seven children: Mrs. O. S. Roby of Leolyn; Mrs. James Haxton of Windfall; Mrs. J. M. Jones of Elmira Heights; Mrs. A. J. Rathburn of Grover; Amasa Shoemaker of Troy; Cecil Shoemaker of Berrytwn, and Charles Shoemaker of Windfall, all of whom were present at the funeral. There was a large attendance of relatives and friends at the funeral which was held at the M. E. church on Thursday. Rev. H. B. Allen officiated, assisted by Rev. J. M. Ryder of Grover. Rev. S. L. Bovier had charge of the singing.

John E. Dayton.

John E. Dayton, the well known shoe manufacturer of Williamsport, died suddenly Monday morning on a train enroute to his home in that city. He had been ill for some time with a disease of the kidneys, and with his wife and a trained nurse had been at Cambridge Springs. Surviving him are his wife, and a son and daughter of his first marriage—Ira A. Dayton and Mrs. M. H. Stephens of Williamsport. C. F. and G A. Dayton of Towanda, are brothers of the deceased. Funeral services will be held on Wednesday afternoon.

Mr. Dayton was born in Bridgeport, Conn., 66 years ago and came to Towanda when a boy with his parents. He was for some years a member of the boot and shoe firm of J. D. Humphrey & Co., in Towanda. About 30 years ago he sold his interest and removed to Williamsport, at first engaging in the retail shoe business and later engaging in manufacturing.

Mrs. Rosa McKay Boughton.

Mrs. Rosa McKay Boughton, who had been in declining health for some time, was found dead in bed at her home with her son, Andrew Boughton, in Elmira street, Troy, Saturday morning, June 24. The summons came peacefully while those who had been in attendance at her bedside were in another room.

Mrs. Boughton was born in Down county, Ireland, January 31, 1841, and came to this country in early childhood. Her parents settled in Springfield. Her union September 12th, 1856, with Thomas Boughton who died February 13, 1904, was the beginning of a long and happy married life. Of the eleven children born to them, nine survive.

Funeral services were held from her late home on June 27 by the Revs. Hall and Mitchell who officiated at the burial of her husband little more than a year ago. Burial was in Glenwood.

John Homet.

John Homet, oldest brother of J. A. Homet of this place, died at his home at Homet's Ferry on Friday, aged 81 years. He recently suffered a stroke and death was due to the effects of this and infirmities of old age. He followed the occupation of farming and was successful in business.

He is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Lucy Howard of Homet's Ferry and Ada H. Homet, who lives at home. Funeral services were held on Monday with interment in the family burying ground.

Death of Seymour Batterson.

Seymour Batterson, after a lingering illness of about one year, died at his home at Fassett quite suddenly on June 26, aged 71 years. He was born in Columbia township, but had lived for 40 years in South Creek. His wife died four years ago. He was a good citizen, an honest man and a kind neighbor. Funeral services were held in the Baptist church at Gillett, Rev. P. Reynolds conducting the service.

Mrs. Eliza McGill.

Mrs. Eliza McGill, wife of J. B. McGill died at her home in Denver, Col., on June 21, in her 85th year. She is survived by her two sons, Dorsey and Means McGill, and four daughters, Mrs. Mary Brines, Mrs. Emma Hickson, Mrs. Charlotte Edsall and Miss Laura McGill. Interment at Fairmount cemetery, Denver.

DELL HART KILLED BY THE CARS AT ELMIRA CROSSING.

Well Known Towanda Man Met Death on the Fourth.

Hiram Adelbert Hart, known familiarly as "Del" Hart, was killed by an east bound Erie fast freight train at the Washington avenue crossing at Elmira at 4:30 o'clock on Tuesday afternoon. Hart was walking the ties when he was struck. The coroner made a short examination of the body and said that death was due to a fractured skull. Both the man's legs were also broken.

"Del" Hart was a well known character in Towanda and was a frequent visitor in police courts. He was his own worst enemy and if it had not been for his love for liquor might have been a respected man. He was intelligent, a fine penman and one of the finest wood painters and finishers to be found. He was a member of Company B, Fifty-ninth New York Volunteers, and served in the Civil war. He was at one time an inmate of the Bath Soldiers' Home and had also been at the county house at Burlington.

THE OVERPECK REUNION.

This Numerous Clan Held a Delightful Meeting at Herricville.

The third annual reunion of the descendants of Adam and Elizabeth Overpeck was held in the M. E. church at Herrickville on June 29, 1905. The day was one that seemed made to order. Not too cold nor too warm, but one of those beautiful days of June when the roses are in bloom and all things of nature seems to smile. Uncle Sam the oldest person bearing the name of Overpeck, born Jan. 10, 1810, was the first one there, having walked about a mile, as he could not wait for the other members of the family. About 10 o'clock the wagons from every direction began coming loaded with people and lunch baskets, and were unloaded at the door of the basement of the church where four long tables were in waiting to receive them. The tables were tastefully decorated with flowers.

Dinner being over the dishes were palced away in the baskets and about an hour was spent in social conversation, when the president, Warren Ford, called a literary and business meeting in the church which was opened by singing "America" A prayer was then offered by the Rev. N. W. Barnes followed by the reading and adopting of the minutes of last meeting. Recitation by Harvey Dimon "A Smile is Cheaper than a Frown," followed by a song by Miss Daisy Jacoby. Claude Ford's recitation, "An Experiment," gave the young boys some good advice about being sick at grandma's; Lena Graham's song "A letter for my Papa" followed by a recitation by Frances Atwood "Two Brothers" were nicely rendered. Song by Mildred Baker. A temperance recitation, "A Voice from the Poor House" by Mrs. Manuel Chaffee showed very plainly what the first drink may lead to. Motion song by Nellie White, Helen and Dorothy Overpeck was good. "Matilda's Beaux" by Nellie Baer; song "Count Your Many Blessings," by Christine Graham. Vera Overpeck recited a piece entitled "Mary's Chicken" which made all laugh. Mrs. W. S. Ford of Laceyville, who seems to be as young as ever gave a recitation entitled "The Quarrel Between Me and the Deacon," and was well encored. The following resolutions were then read and adopted:

Whereas, it has pleased God, our heavenly father to remove from our family, since we last met Byron Horton and John Rice,

Resolved: That we extend our sympathy to the relatives of the deceased and bow in humble submission to His divine will, knowing that he doeth all things well.

Resolved, That these resolutions be placed upon the minutes of the Overpeck reunion and a copy be presented to the near relatives.

Remarks were made by Rev. N. W. Barnes, Zopher Platt, B. K. Gustin and others. The following officers were elected for next year; Pres., M. A. Overpeck; vice president, H. B. Chaffee; secretary, M. E. Overpeck. Committee on place of holding next reunion; F. G. Atwood, S. B. Wickier, John Overpeck. Motion made by Scott Ford, "That we hold the next reunion at Herrickville on the last Thursday of June, 1906," carried. The following table committees were appointed; Mrs. M. A. Overpeck for Andrew Overpeck; Mrs. G. N. Baker for Samuel Overpeck; Mrs. Leslie Dimon for Betsey M. Ford; Mrs. S. B. Wickizer for Charles Overpeck. Closed by singing "Coronation."

On a Western Trip.

Dr. and Mrs. Charles Reed of Wysox, and Mr. and Mrs. J. Frank Patterson of Towanda, left yesterday on a western trip that will last until the middle of August. At Denver they will be joined by John M. Reed, a brother of Dr. Reed and Mrs. Patterson, and will visit Portland, where Dr. Reed will attend the sessions of the American Medical congress. From there the party will visit California cities and in Los Angeles a family reunion will be held at the home of their sister, Mrs. E. B. Reed

Mrs. Margaret B. Judson.

Mrs. Margaret B. Judson, widow of the late Dr. Judson of Athens, died at the home of her niece, Mrs. Frank Zeller, in Sheshequin Sunday noon from diabetes, after a long illness. She was 77 years old and prior to the death of her husband, which occurred a year ago last April, she had resided in Athens for 14 years. The funeral was held at the home of Frank Zeller, Wednesday at 11 o'clock and the body will be taken to Weedsport, N. Y., for interment.

CLEMENCY EXTENDED

President Roosevelt Pardons Two Famous Counterfeiters.

SENTENCE WAS EXCESSIVE.

Kendig and Jacobs Were Wealthy Merchants of Lancaster, Pa., and Engaged In Printing Revenue Stamps and $100 Silver Certificates.

Washington, July 4.—President Roosevelt has exercised his prerogative by commuting the sentences of William L. Kendig and William M. Jacobs to expire immediately. The men were convicted in 1900 on the most convincing and unassailable proof ever presented in a court of justice of a gigantic counterfeiting conspiracy, which had for its ultimate object the flooding of the country in two years with $10,-000,000 of the most perfect and artistic counterfeit bank notes ever manufactured in the history of the criminal art.

Commutation in this instance means immediate freedom, for the president has directed that the sentences shall be commuted to expire immediately. The prisoners were sentenced to twelve years' imprisonment and to pay a fine of $5,000 each. They were committed to the Eastern penitentiary and transferred from there to the penitentiary in Atlanta, Ga.

Men Were Wealthy Merchants.

Just what arguments were brought to bear to cause the president to extend mercy to two of the most dangerous criminals with which the secret service has had to deal, and who were only taken after the most painstaking and skillful detective work, extending over a year, is not known. The president's action in letting the counterfeiters loose before half their term in prison had expired is on the ground that the sentence was excessive.

Kendig and Jacobs were wealthy and influential merchants in Lancaster, Pa., engaged in the cigar and tobacco business. The first venture in counterfeiting, and which turned out to be extremely profitable, was the printing of fraudulent internal revenue stamps. The grand coup was the issuance of a counterfeit $100 silver certificate that was so perfect in design, in engraving and in the preparation of the paper that the government was compelled to recall an entire issue of $40,000,000, an action without precedent in the history of the United States treasury. This fact was brought out at the trial by James M. Beck, at the time assistant United States district attorney in Philadelphia and subsequently assistant attorney general of the United States by President Roosevelt's appointment.

Kept Counterfeiting In Prison.

The arrest and conviction and the amazing story brought out at the trial of these wealthy criminals sounded more like fiction than fact, for it embraced a history of how two of their accomplices actually carried out a successful counterfeiting business in the cells in which they were confined in the county prison of Philadelphia. The conspiracy had many ramifications, and concerned in it were two lawyers whose reputations up to the time of their arrest were unblemished. The discovery of a new counterfeit twenty dollar silver certificate was made in the latter part of 1898. The experts of the treasury department realized instantly that they had to deal with one of the most dangerous attacks ever made on the integrity of the legal tender of the United States government and evidently with criminal artists of more than ordinary ability. John Wilkie, who afterward became chief of the secret service, was called in and ordered to spare neither time nor expense to find the counterfeiters and the evidence to convict them, and when engaged in this task with a corps of assistants he discovered the fraudulent internal revenue stamps.

INDICT BIG PACKERS.

Federal Grand Jury Finds True Bill Against Magnates.

Chicago, July 2.—An indictment has been voted against eighteen persons officials of four beef packing corporations, by the federal grand jury. This ended the investigation, which lasted more than three months and brought out testimony of more than 100 witnesses.

The following persons were indicted J. Ogden Armour, Charles W. Armour, Edward Morris, Ira N. Morris, Louis F. Swift, Edward F. Swift, L. A. Carton, D. E. Hartwell, Edward A. Cudahy, A. F. Evans, attorney; R. C. McManus, attorney; A. H. Veeder, Patrick A. Valentine, T. J. Connors, Edward Tilden, Arthur Meeker, Charles N. Swift, Samuel McRoberts, Samuel Weil, Beth S. Cusey, C. E. Todd and V. D. Skipworth.

In addition to the individuals indicted the following corporations are indicted:

Armour & Co., Swift & Co., Cudahy Packing company and Morris & Co.

One indictment of more than sixty typewritten pages was voted covering charges including combination in restraint of trade, conspiracy to monopolize trade and receiving and granting rebates. The vote on the eighteen individuals and four corporations was unanimous for indictment.

Trials of those under indictment will probably begin in the July term of the district court. The United States district attorney's office, although reticent admitted that the heads of the chief packing companies are on the indictment list.

Durham Resigns Office.

Harrisburg, Pa., July 2.—Israel W Durham has resigned as insurance commissioner. David Martin of Philadelphia has been appointed his successor.

MONTHLY MEETING OF TOWN COUNCIL INTERESTING.

Telephone Franchise Granted but No Poles to Go on Main Street.

Monday night's meeting of the town council was interesting and considerable business was transacted. Mrs John Rahm of the Village Improvement society asked that the law in regard to throwing refuse in streets and alleys be posted and as soon as the pamphlet laws are published some action will be taken. Mrs. Osborne asked that the nuisance caused by the bill board on North Main street be abated and that a guard rail be placed at the intersection of York avenue and North Main street. Both will be attended to. Mrs. M. J. Long spoke of the need of having weeds cut and protested against allowing any more telephone poles to be erected on Main street.

J. A. Record asked for a sidewalk on south side of State street and said that the lower part of the street was used by wagons and by the men who dressed telephone poles. The street committee reported considerable work done on gutters ,culverts and walks. The borough attorney was instructed to confer with J. R. Overton, agent of J. P. Kirby in relation to a sewer for the McIntosh block. Mr. Kirby was granted the right to rebuild a wooden shed back of the block and cover it with steel and to do the same in regard to the blacksmith shop on the same property.

The American Telegraph and Telephone company was granted a franchise in the borough with the exception of on Main street and York avenue between Barclay street and Oak street, the same tax to be imposed as upon other telephone companies provided that it be reasonable. D. H Frapwell, Esq., appeared for the telephone company.

E. D. Rundell complained of an open sewer on Fourth street. Referred to sewer committee. The police report of Burgess Pratt showed the arrest of 13 persons during the month. The borough attorney was empowered to borrow money for the payment of the following bills which were approved:

Streets	$350.11
Auditors	36.00
Miscellaneous	55.78
Police	150.00
Water	757.50
Printing	11.00
Lights	239.40

DALRYMPLE HOME AGAIN.

Arrives In Scotland and Discusses His Visit to America.

Glasgow, July 2.—James Dalrymple, the street railway expert, returned from the United States. In discussing his visit to America he said that Chicago has a great deal to learn about municipalization. It has much arrears to wipe out before it can hope to keep pace with the growth of the idea of municipalization.

"If any municipal undertaking is to be successfully managed in Chicago," he added, "the city must adopt a very different system from that permitting political considerations to influence the municipal administration."

Discussing Chicago's tramways, Mr. Dalrymple said that the city's tramway companies are so shamefully overloaded with capital that the companies have been unable to keep up the plants, the result being that everything connected with the system is run down.

"I never imagined any system of tramways could be in such a deplorable condition. Protracted disputes between the companies and the municipality has contributed to produce this condition. There are many features of American tramways that are ahead of Glasgow's, but in other matters we have advanced further than the American cities.

Dalrymple spoke praisefully of the American reporters. He found them a fine body of men and enjoyed their company.

JULY MAGAZINES.

Features of the Midsummer Publications Briefly Noted.

A brilliant figure in the commercial world today is Frank J. Sprague, the man who harnessed electricity to the street-car service and who, in Richmond in 1888, installed the first practical railroad in the United States. His story of the electric railway in the July Century will possess the weight of authority and the fascination of the personal element.

The July "Arena" opens the 34th volume of this standard review with a very notable table of contents. Among the features that will appeal with special interest to persons interested in civic life and duty are the following: "The Economic Struggle in Colorado," by Hon. J. Warner Mills; "Municipal Black Plague," a story of the period of utter darkness which immediately preceded the recent revolt of the people of Philadelphia, by Rudolph Blankenburg; "How the People Should Acquire Public Utilities," by Prof. E. W. Bemis and F. F. Ingram; and a criticism of Andrew D. White's position of the railway question, by the editor of "The Arena."

Of course, there is a patriotic tone to the July St. Nicholas, with Fourth of July stories holding prominent place. First of all is Dorothy Brooks's "How Teddy Saw the King," the tale of a homesick little American's Independence Day. This month's Pinkey Perkins's story tells how Pinkey celebrated the glorious Fourth—but not just in the way he and his chum had planned.

The novelette in Lippincott's for July is a strikingly lively and lovely summer story called "An Orchard Princess." Its author, Ralph Henry Barbour, is well remembered through his "Kitty of Roses" and other good works. As a creator of feminine character Mr. Barbour seems to be particularly felicitious and his heroine in "An Orchard Princess" more than justifies this opinion. There are besides many delightful short stories and poems.

The Forum for July-September opens with an article on "American Politics" by Henry Litchfield West, in which the quesiton of municipal ownership, as well as other important topics of the day, are broadly discussed. "Foreign Affairs," and especially the diplomatic features of the war in the Far East, are comprehensively treated by A. Maurice Low.

DON'T BITE ON THIS.

A Nice Scheme and How It Is Worked.

About as slick a case of swindling as has been exposed lately was brought out in United States court at Williamsport recently. An advertisement recently appeared in various papers offering $50 per month and expenses to bright young men to travel for Charles E. Barnes & Co., brokers, of New York city. The work was to obtain information as to crops, financial standing of parties, etc. When a victim bit by answering the advertisement he was at once engaged "on trial," and a check for $50 was sent him. He was told to come to New York at once, and also informed that Mr. A. Weill, of Columbus, was about to run an excursion to New York and return for the low sum of $26.50, and he was expected to take advantage of the low rate.

He was to send currency to that amount to Mr. Weill, as no checks were taken. The scheme was worked principally on young men in the middle west, where that rate would be an alluring one. Of course Mr. Weill and the excursion train were fictitious. When the post office authorities investigated they found that Mr. Weill had ordered his mail forwarded to Philadelphia, and from there to Paxtang, near Harrisburg, where a man known as Vant was arrested while asking for Mr. Weill's mail. The check on a New York bank, forwarded by Barnes & Co., was of course, worthless. It will be a long time before Weill gets his mail outside of a penal institution.

JOHN HAY.

In the death of John Hay, America loses the greatest diplomatist she has ever had, if not her greatest statesman. Many accord to him the greater distinction. It is, perhaps, too early to fix his place among the public men of this country, but certain it is that abroad no living American except, perhaps, the president himself, has won such wide celebrity and such distinguished honor. For seven years he has conducted the department of foreign affairs with rare tact and a farsightedness that have won for him the sincere respect of European nations and the entire confidence of his fellow countrymen. His official life was a continuous record of honorable and meritorious service.

He had high ideals which were never lowered. His foresight, conservatism, courage and firmness throughout a period crowded with momentous and perplexing events raised the state department from a condition of relative unimportance to a commanding position among the chancelleries of the world. He opened a new diplomatic epoch for the country; but the service for which he will be longest remembered will be the magnanimous stand in the far East which stemmed the tide of brutal aggression upon helpless China.

This career of John Hay is one of which ever American can justly be proud, for his influence will be an abiding one in the state department in the cabinets of the world.

Col. Stillwell, of Scranton, has declined the offer to become commandant of the state constabulary. Governor Pennypacker made him the offer last Thursday, and after having the matter fully explained to him Colonel Stillwell said that he could not accept the offer. The state constabulary is to gradually take the place of the coal and iron policemen.

This is the season of danger from lightning. The Scientific American says if you are afraid of lightning, here is a simple safeguard to remember. Simply put on your gum shoes or rubbers and then stand up so that your clothes won't touch anything. Whether you are in doors or out of doors, you are perfectly safe, for rubber is a nonconductor and you are perfectly insulated.

President Hyde of Bowdoin, in his address to the graduating class of Wellesley, advised the girls, if they wish to be happy, to forget that they are college graduates or know any more or are different from other people. That is a good rule for all people to follow. It is the person who thinks he is better than any one else who usually has a lonely time in this world. Other people are perfectly willing that he should think so, and will leave him alone to do his thinking.

If you are really "a good man," if you can really do good work in any line, you do not need capital. In every trade newspaper you will find advertisements of this character: "The services of a good man more important than capital." A cry goes up from every quarter for really good men, men who can accomplish results, men who will not cause more trouble around a shop than their services are worth. Of course, you will say you are "a good man," but if you can prove it you are all right. There is no end to the possibilities of a young man who has good habits, good health and is able to do something well.—Atchinson Globe.

A writer in Public Opinion calls attention to the great waste of the material collected in the streets of New York city by the street cleaning department. Attention is called to the fact that New York city pays a private corporation $192,000 a year to remove the refuse, while in 200 towns in Great Britain this product is disposed of in such a manner as to yield a handsome revenue. Many British towns consume their refuse, thereby generating sufficient power to do all their public lighting. It is asserted that New York could provide in this way three times the power necessary for lighting purposes. While municipal ownership of farms is not advocated by the writer, it is noted that Berlin owns 32,740 acres of farm land, and that by using liquid sewage upon them they have been made so fertile that they produce crops that netted for the city $91,750 in 1904.

TRIAL BY JURY A "FETICH."

There is a growing disfavor with the jury system as established in the United States, and not without good cause, as the ends of justice are so often defeated, through one obstinate juror, or by being swayed by attorney's pleas and regardless of the evidence or the charge of the judge, says the Scranton Times. Secretary of War Taft in an address at Yale recently before the Law School on the subject of "The Administration of Criminal Law," plainly stated truths apparent to every reader of the papers. Mr. Taft said: "The institution of trial by jury has come to be regarded as a fetich to such an extent that state legislatures have exalted the power of the jury and diminished the power of the court in hearing of criminal cases. The function of the judge is limited to that of a moderator in a religious assembly. The counsel for the defense, relying on the diminished power of the court, creates by dramatic art and by harping on the importance of unimportant details, a false atmosphere in the court room which the judge is powerless to dispel, and under the hypnotic influence of which the counsel is able to lead the jurors to vote as jurors for a verdict which, after all the excitement of the trial has passed away, they are unable to support as men.

"And now what has been the result in this country? Since 1885 in the United States there have been 131,951 murders and homicides, and there have been 2,286 executions. In 1885 the number of murders was 1808. In 1904 it had increased to 8,482. The number of executions in 1885 was 108. In 1904 the number was 116. This startling increase in the number of murders and homicides as compared with the number of executions tells the story. As murder is on the increase, so are offenses of the felony class, and there can be no doubt that there will continue to increase unless the criminal laws are enforced with more certainty, more uniformity, more severity than they now are."

It seems to be the aim of the modern jury, attorneys and court, not so much to punish criminals as to set them free through technicalities, disagreement of juries, sympathy or sentiment. Crime will become so rampant in a few years more, that a reaction must come from present methods, or life and property will be unsafe under almost any circumstances.

ELECTRIC RAILWAYS.

Present indications point to the inevitable adoption of the electric railway system in place of steam, for suburban traffic. The tendency is in that direction. The current number of the Railway Gazette gives reasons in a careful examination of the growth of electrical power for local interurban, and long distance service, why electricity is fast displacing steam. With electric power a greater number of trains may be handled on a given number of tracks; where there are frequent stops, as by accommodation trains to suburban points, the electric trains which are lighter may be stopped and started more quickly; there is absence of smoke and dirt, and, finally, the cost is much less. The sum of money which will permit a railroad to run one steam train an hour will pay for the cost of running an electric train every four minutes, according to the Gazette; or, in other words, under ordinary conditions, where the track and terminals are built the cost of a steam train service is fifteen times greater, expressed in the frequency of the trains, than electrical service. If the estimate of relative cost be correct, it is apparent that it is only a question of time when the big steam railroad companies will be compelled, in the interest of economy and sound business principles, to handle a great deal of their local or suburban traffic with electric motive power. The Gazette shows by the statistics of many roads, where the steam line has been paralleled in suburban districts, that the electric line has invariably taken the local passenger traffic from the steam road because of frequent trains and a fare which is lower than the railroad can afford to meet.

DON'T DROP OUT.

The Equitable Life Assurance company and the Royal Arcanum are both in trouble, the first over alleged misconduct of officers which may lead to criminal prosecutions and the latter over a raise in rates made by the Supreme council and which affects the members over 64 years so seriously that many are considering dropping out. A word of caution is necessary in regard to both companies. There is promise that eventually the troubled state of affairs will come out all right.

Don't drop your policies or get unduly scared. The Equitable company is sound even if it has not done all it could to make dividends for policyholders. It may do this in the future. Don't lose the hundreds of dollars you have put in. Your family and estates may suffer. If all the councils of Royal Arcanum protest against what they consider to be an unjust discrimination between the young and old members the Supreme council must back down. Don't drop out until the matter is settled.

THE CITY BEAUTIFUL.

Denver, Col., has organized a village improvement society on an extensive scale. The city has a population of about 135,000, and the citizens determined that they would make a city beautiful by having a "cleaning-up" frolic. The mayor entered into the spirit of the occasion and issued a proclamation containing suggestions as follows:

If your store front, residence or fence is dull or dingy order it painted.

If your awning is old, torn or faded get a new one.

If your sidewalk, fence or gate needs repair fix it.

Destroy the young weeds that are starting on your property and on your neighbor's property.

If your advertising sign is old or faded take it down or paint it.

Resolve never to throw paper in the streets.

Take all dandelions out of your lawn—they spoil its beauty.

Burn all the rubbish possible—allow no one to throw it on streets, alleys or vacant lots.

Promise not to spit on the sidewalk.

Organize a block improvement society and allow no weeds to grow on sidewalk, area or vacant property in your block.

Ask your milkmen, grocerymen and expressmen to have their wagons painted.

Irrespective of the size of your house make your lawn the finest.

Illuminate the front of your store in the business section.

Every effort put forth or dollar spent to improve our city's appearance will be returned two-fold.

Following the mayor's recommendations the citizens proceeded to make Denver the cleanest city west of the Mississippi. Men, women and children worked bravely and industriously to clean the city, and the result was most satisfactory. The citizens will continue to labor in behalf of cleanliness, and their example is certain to spread to other cities in the west. It would not be out of place for the citizens of some of the cities in the east to adopt the Denver plan of creating the City Beautiful. The benefits of cleanliness are only appreciated by those who have lived in places where no regard was had for beauty or comfort.

PERJURED TESTIMONY.

There is a great wave of indignation going about the country over the practices of those so-called lawyers who endeavor to clear their clients from criminal charges through perjured testimony. When the fathers of this country granted in their constitution a trial by a jury of his peers to every man and guaranteed him his liberty unless convicted by them of crime, it did not by any means carry with such a grant any excuse for perjured testimony.

The framers of the constitution probably did not believe that in a country dedicated to freedom and right, and established as a protest to wrongs, there were ever grow up a class of sheister lawyers whose only ideal was the acquittal of their client by any means, whether fair or foul, lawful or illegal. When an attorney stoops to such a practice he should be regarded as a renegade, a man to be placed in the self same class as those who accept his advice and go on the witness stand and swear away their honor.

The punishment of crime is almost impossible where a client has taken the counsel of these disgraces to the bar. Let a man commit any crime he will, there is usually in every community some lawyer who will do everything in his power to get him free, either to place laurels on his own reputation or to receive money compensation for it or for some other such consideration. No one objects to an attorney securing for his client everything that the laws says that he shall have but there should be a note of warning to attorneys who advise their clients to perjure themselves and to secure perjured witnesses to testify in their behalf.

Household pets are susceptible to a far greater variety of diseases than most people imagine. Parrots are known to be susceptible to a disease so peculiar to themselves that it is called from the Greek word for parrot, "psittacosus." A number of fatal cases in human beings of what was at first supposed to be a malignant influenzal pneumonia were in Paris traced to be bacillus at present thought to be causative of the parrot disease. A cerain proportion of parrots are known to die from tuberculosis. Cats are known sometimes to have tuberculosis, and that they have in many cases been carriers of diphtheria and other of the ordinary infections directly and indirectly is more than suspected.

Another bad acident caused by a misplaced switch is reported from the Flatiron district of Broadway. No fatalities resulted, however, as the switchman at the corner rescued the switch and returned it to the young woman from whose head it had blown before serious damage was done.—Binghamton Republican.

REPUBLICANS ALERT,

Active Work Under Way for the Fall Campaign.

CHAIRMAN ANDREWS' PLANS.

Short Sketches of the Five Men Who Are on the Ticket to Be Voted for at the November Elections—All Unanimous Nominations.

Initial steps have already been taken for an aggressive campaign for the whole Republican ticket in this state.

Chairman Andrews and His Plans.

A member of the Dauphin county Republican committee received a letter from State Chairman Andrews yesterday, in which, among other things, he said:

Everything is in excellent shape for the opening of the campaign. The meeting of the state committee, at which Hon. John Stewart was nominated for the supreme bench, brought together a representative gathering of active Republicans from all over the state.

Reports received as to the condition of the party from every section were of the most gratifying character. The party was never so harmonious, nor was there ever a better spirit displayed toward the candidates on a ticket. My daily mail is very large, showing a deep interest in the party work now under way.

I shall be at the state headquarters, on and off, until the second week in July, when I will go to my home in Meadville, where I will attend to all correspondence until the formal opening of the Republican state headquarters in Philadelphia, which will be on or about August 15.

Five Strong Nominees.

The fact that there are five candidates on the state ticket this year, will mean that the total vote will be swelled by the activity of the personal friends and neighbors of these nominees, who will be anxious to have each of them given a complimentary vote in his home and nearby counties.

The head of the ticket, Justice John Stewart, of Franklin county, nominee for the supreme bench, has a large following, and is favorably known in almost every county in the state. Members of the bar with whom he is personally acquainted will take pleasure in working to swell his vote.

The same can be truthfully said also of each of the nominees for the superior court. Judge Charles E. Rice, president judge of the superior court, who comes from Luzerne county, is particularly strong throughout the anthracite coal region. He has won an enviable reputation as a jurist, and his personal qualities have endeared him to all who have had intimate relations with him.

The battle-scarred war veteran, General James A. Beaver, former governor and candidate to succeed himself on the superior court bench, has long commanded the admiration of his fellow citizens for his patriotism, his sterling worth, and his fairness as a judge. His home county of Centre, and, in fact, every county in the state, will have a host of champions of Judge Beaver, among them members of the Grand Army, who will leave nothing undone to make him run well up with the head of the ticket in the balloting in November next. Judge George B. Orlady, of Huntingdon, is known as one of the most affable and approachable judges on the bench in Pennsylvania. He, too, comes up for re-election to the superior court, and it is predicted that his candidacy will contribute materially to strengthen the entire Republican ticket in the state. Republicans of his home county are already engaged in a personal canvass in his interest, and they declare that he will be given one of the largest votes ever cast for a candidate from that county.

A Messenger Boy's Force of Character.

J. Lee Plummer, of Blair county, the nominee for state treasurer, is counted upon to poll the largest vote ever cast for a candidate for state treasurer in Pennsylvania. His personal integrity is unquestioned, and his political career has been such as to commend him to the voters of his section of the state who have known him for years, and who insisted upon his nomination at the hands of the Republican state convention. He began life in the humble capacity of messenger boy. He afterward became a brakeman on the Pennsylvania railroad, and then by hard work and many sacrifices, he had himself admitted to the bar. His success has been an inspiration to the young men of his section, and his popularity has been attested on many an occasion. As a member of the legislature he worked to bring about many reforms, and his interest in the charities of the state was shown in valuable services as chairman of the appropiation committee.

The fact that all of the candidates on the Republican ticket were nominated without a contest, and each by a unanimous vote, is an indication of the sentiment that prevails throughout the state towards the several nominees.

Must Look to Congress.

The fact that a governor and a full delegation to congress are to be elected next year will add to the interest of the campaign this fall. The importance of keeping the Republican lines intact will be appreciated by all who are familiar with political conditions throughout the country.

There has been observed a tendency in many sections of the country to revive the agitation for a revision of the tariff, and it is anticipated that Pennsylvania's manufacturing interests will require the full and aggressive support of a solid Republican delegation in the next national house of representatives to protect them from an onslaught which is bound to come from the tariff revisionists.

Pennsylvania profits more than any other state through the protective tariff, and it is vitally interesting to every Pennsylvanian that Republicanism of the stalwart type shall continue in the ascendency. The iron and steel industries of the Keystone state have furnished the material for American warships, many of which have been built by Pennsylvania labor on the banks of the Delaware. The arsenals in Philadelphia, employing many Pennsylvania men and women, are now engaged in furnishing supplies and ammunition for the soldiers and sailors of the United States. It cannot be denied that the prestige of her Republicanism has given Pennsylvania first consideration at the hands of the Republicans of the nation, and it is essential that there shall be no wavering in the loyalty to the principles or the candidates of Republicanism on the part of Pennsylvanians at this time.

SPECIALIZATION AND LOSS.

Specialization in manufacture results in decrease of cost and increase of production and is the striking feature of modern industry. The Iron Age shows, for example, that for making two oil pumps of a certain kind the cost is $20.19 each, but the same pump in lots of 12 cost but $6.12. Concentration on one article pays and the use of a separate machine for each part of an article pays, if the number to be made is large. But the Age finds danger in specialization. Thus "if a new machine be invented which will, by increasing the output only 10 per cent., reduce the cost an equal amount it pays to scrap the old machine. In many instances improvements have been made which have reduced the cost of manufacture over 50 per cent., and herein lies one of the dangers of specialization in manufacture.

An establishment may have its capital tied up in a complete outfit of machinery designed to produce one article at the lowest cost, for which there may be a constant demand at a remunerative price. Then an ingenious inventor may design a new machine, which will perhaps produce better goods at far lower cost, and the utility of the old plant is a once destroyed. Its costly machinery may be of little or no value for any other purpose, and so a hitherto profitable industry may be wiped out of existence at one fell stroke. This is not an imaginary statement, but it can be supported by numerous facts."

An interesting statement touching the accounts of school savings banks in the United States, prepared by J. H. Thiry, of New York, shows that there are 1,089 such banks in 109 cities of this country. The system was started 20 years ago, and in this period the deposits have amounted to $2,782,012, of which $2,165,072 has been withdrawn, the remainder being left to the credit of the youthful depositors. When it is considered that most of the deposits rarely exceeded 1 cent at a time, the aggregate of $2,782,012 is not to be sneered at. The purpose in establishing the banks, Mr. Thiry explains, was "to teach the children the value of money, and the power gained by saving it." Taking care of the pence, according to the old maxim, means that the pounds will take care of themselves. Many a "child of larger growth" has failed to learn this lesson.

When the attack was at its height our attention was called to the advertisement of Doan's Kidney Pills. Knowing that the trouble was caused by imperfect action and of the kidneys a box of the remedy was pricured for me at Dr. H. C. Porter & Son's drug store on Main street. I took them as directed. After a few days the pain in my back which had been severe disappeared and I felt better in every way. My opinion of Doan's Kidney Pills have been greatly strengthened since that time owing to the fact that I have heard so many people right here in Towanda who have used them and spoken of them in the highest terms of praise."

COULDN'T TURN OVER BUT COULD FIGHT ALL RIGHT.

Collector Plumstead of Sayre Initiated Into Family Life.

Tax Collector Plumstead of Sayre went to a house where it was reported the husband and wife had separated and the household goods had been offered to a second hand dealer. There was something doing at once. The woman grabbed the collector by the collar and screaming at the top of her voice tried to keep the man of the law out. Plumstead finally got in but when he began making the inventory the enraged woman tried to knock his book out of his hand. He finally got out alive but as he is an aged man he was badly used up by his strenuous encounter with the lady.

Later in the evening the husband hunted up the collector and made arrangements for a settlement. He said "Say, Mr. Plumstead, do you blame me now for leaving her:" and the tax collector said "no." Then the husband told of some of the tales regarding his wife's scrapping ability. He said that she was recently ill, in fact she was so sick that he had to turn her over in bed. In making one of the turns, she claimed he did not handle her carefully enough. She jumped from bed, pounded him on the head, saying "you will be rough with me, will you" and then she climbed back in bed with the instructions that he proceed to turn her over carefully. The man said, "I didn't turn her over for I thought if she could jump out of bed and fight she could turn over after she got back in again."

SLIGHT WRECK HERE.

Broken Knuckle of Drawhead Smashes up a Beef Trust Car.

A broken draw head set the brakes on an empty beef trust car of a west bound train near the East Towanda crossing Saturday morning at about 7:30 o'clock. This caused the remainder of the train which was not coupled with air hose to crash with violence against the car behind the one damaged and the impact drove it out of the train and sent it partly up the bank on the east side of the track. Its front was badly smashed.

Engine 1373 drew the train and the car smashed was Lackawanna Live Stock Transporiation Car, with Swarthchild & Sulzberger's name on it, No. 3312. The east bound track was not blocked and traffic was but little delayed.

SENIOR VICE COMMANDER.

The first annual meeting and reunion of the United Spanish-American War Veterans, Department of Pennsylvania, was held at Harrisburg Friday and was attended by representatives from the various camps in the state.

The following officers were elected: Department commander, E. Laubenstine, Harrisburg; senior vice commander, Thomas M. Stalford, Towanda; junior vice commander, Walter S. Reynolds, New Castle; quartermaster, Frank Messinger, Harrisburg; adjutant, Frank O. Schultz, Harrisburg.

Two Men Sentenced.

The big shooting affray in Cross Fork on April 2, has had an important sequel in the Potter county court in Coudersport. After two days' trial in the case of Luigi DeMargio the jury brought in a verdict of not guilty on the charge of murdering Henrico DiBocco. But DeMargio had been indicted also with shooting Genio Di Bocco with intent to kill, and Judge Ormerod insisted that he be tried at once on this charge. De Margio pleaded guilty to the latter accusation, and Joseph DiBocco, under a like indictment, also pleaded guilty. Judge Omerod sentenced De Margio to seven years imprisonment and to pay $1,000 fine and costs of prosecution. Joseph DiBocco was sentenced to pay a fine of $500 and costs of prosecution and to undergo seven years' imprisonment.

Died in Camp.

William S. Shoemaker of Shunk died suddenly on Tuesday of last week. Mr. Shoemaker had been in poor health for some time and thought a few weeks of camp life with hunting and fishing for recreation might improve his health, and with a friend went in camp near Hillsgrove. He was there only a few days when he was taken suddenly very ill and died before he could be taken to his home at Shunk. He was highly respected in the community where he lived.

Towanda Man as Groomsman.

Charles J. VanWie and Miss Katherine A. Hebbe, both of Elmira, were united in marriage on Wednesday afternoon of last week. Miss Theresa Hebbe was bridesmaid and Bert Bazette of Towanda, was best man. Mr. VanWie is well known and has many friends in Towanda, where he has frequently visited.

Just Think of It.

It only costs the price of one circus ticket to become a member of the Village Improvement society for a whole year. Of course everybody would like to belong. Kindly give your name and the fee to the committee or any member of the society today. Ladies 25 cents; gentlemen 50 cents for 52 weeks.

Not Pastor of Church Named.

Rev. M. C. Decker, of whom mention was made in these columns concerning a divorce granted to his wife, was not a pastor of the First Baptist church in this place, as stated.

GENTLEMAN FARMER WOULD HAVE TROUBLE.

Hard to Get Help for That Kind of Occupation.

The Harrisburg Patriot says: On a train going to Philadelphia one day last week a gentleman who has been gazing from the window at the charming and ever-changing views of pastoral scenery—the flowering fruit trees, the freshly plowed ground alternating with the different shaded green of meadows and fields of wheat and rye, turned to a lady who had got on at Pomeroy and taken beside him the only unoccupied seat in the car.

"How I would love to be a farmer if I had money enough to hire men to do the work."

With a smile she replied: "You would need more than the money to hire the men. You would first have to find men willing to be hired. We live a few miles from Pomeroy and have a farm of 169 acres with thirty cows and twelve horses and my husband has only one man to help him because he cannot get anyone and I can not get the help in the house I need. There are no girls to be had. All those that have to go away from home go to the cities to work in stores or mills."

Continuing the conversation, this lady said that because of the impossibility of getting the help they needed in the fields and in the house, she and her husband were talking of selling the farm and of going to a city and starting a grocery store.

"But," she added: "If we do that, we may in a few years have neither money, nor farm, for we know nothing about the business."

This conversation, which took place just as described, is worth repeating, because to a greater or less extent, it is true of every farming community. And yet in every large city there are thousands of men and women willing to work who are idle and suffering a large part of every year.

The labor market in the cities is greatly overstocked while farmers are vainly offering big wages for the work of men and women who might be healthy and happy in the pure air and pleasant surroundings of farm life, but who are degenerating physically and mentally in the unsanitary and overcrowded tenements of the city.

This is a condition and a problem to which not only philanthropists but statesmen, should give most serious attention.

One thing obvious is that we should have better facilities for agricultural education, not only in high schools and colleges, but in the common schools that the farmer's boys and girls attend in their tender years.

MCKEE—PASSMORE.

Samuel G. McKee, Formerly of Towanda, Took a Bride at Gillett.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Passmore at Gillett, was the scene of a charming wedding on June 27 at 6 o'clock p. m., when Miss Charity Althea Passmore and Samuel George McKee of St. Louis, Mo., were united in marriage. The bride is one of Gillett's most popular young ladies, widely known in musical circles, and greatly loved by a large circle of admiring friends. The groom is an enterprising young man, clerk in the postoffice in St. Louis. Miss Lucy Loomis was bridesmaid and John A. Passmore best man. The bride's dress was of white chiffon, and she carried a bouquet of bride's roses. The bridesmaid wore white Persian lawn; her bouquet was of pink carnations.

Miss Blanche Dewey presided at the piano. Promptly at 6 o'clock she began the strains of the Mendelssohn wedding march while the bridal party slowly marched to a beautiful arch composed of evergreen and white roses, under which they took their places while the impressive marriage ceremony was performed by the bride's pastor, Rev. Philander Reynolds, using the ring service. The happy couple were the recipients of many beautiful and valuable gifts. The house was beautifully decorated with rare plants, ferns, cut flowers and evergreens. The bride's table was especially elegant. A bountiful supper was served, to which 60 invited guests did ample justice. Mr. and Mrs. McKee will, after a short wedding trip, make their home in St. Louis.

Mr. McKee was for several years a resident of Towanda, where he made a great many friends who will join with the people of their native town in wishing him and his bride many happy years.

Successful Season.

John J. Cummings has just closed a very successful season of dancing classes, conducting 18 classes in all, three of which were in Towanda. Mr. Cummings is an excellent instructor and has been ably assisted by his sisters, Frances and Theresa. Dancing has had quite a revivial here of late and on Tuesday evening Mr. Cummings has been teaching a class composed almost entirely of married couples, and the members have made great progress in the new dances as well as getting the old ones modernized.

Had Appendicitis.

The Robert Packer hospital at Sayre continues to have demand for a large number of operations for appendicitis. On Wednesday of last week, Miss Eileen Dodge of Wyalusing was operated on for the trouble.

Purchased a Home.

J. C. Griffin has purchased the Kingsbury property on Poplar street above Third, where he has been living for the past two years, and next Spring will rebuild the house.

LOCAL ROYAL ARCANUM LODGE TAKES ACTION ON NEW RATE

Unites With Other Councils in Asking for Revision.

Towanda Council, No. 532, Royal Arcanum, at a meeting held on Tuesday evening of last week, took action, in common with councils of the order throughout the United States, looking to a modification of the change in rates scheduled to go into effect on Oct. 1, next. This new rate, made by the Supreme Council in session in Atlantic City in May, practically forces from the order the old members by doubling the assessment, and greatly increases the assessment on all ages. A storm of protest has been raised against the action, which threatens to disrupt the order.

Towanda Council has a membership of 45 and has been in existance 25 years. The new table of rates practically places the old members on the same basis of new members at the same age, destroying their credit for assessments already paid.

Towanda Council adopted a form of request to Hon. Frank B. Wickersham, Grand Regent of Pennsylvania, asking him to call a special session of the grand council of Pennsylvania, for the purpose of instructing the representatives to the Supreme Council that they shall unite with the representatives from other grand councils in supporting some method whereby a special session of the Supreme Council may be convened for the purpose of amending the table of rates before Oct. 1.

Grand Regent Wikersham is to be in Sayre on July 14, at which time the councils of Sayre, Athens and Towanda will hold a joint meeting to discuss the matter with him.

TINKLEPAUGH DEAD.

Man Who Shot Annoyer at Shunk Has Passed Away.

The Tunkhannock correspondent of the Wilkesbarre Record says:

"E. E. Tinklepaugh, who died at the Wilkesbarre City hospital, has been a familiar figure on the streets of this town for five or six years at intervals, when he stopped at the Packer House. He was an itinerent watch tinkerer and for a time made his headquarters at Beaumont. From here he went to Shunk and opened a shop, and while there he killed a man who had persisted in annoying him. He was tried for murder at Laporte last winter and acquited on the grounds of self-defense. He turned up here again this spring and had been here frequently during the past month or two. He was a harmless fellow when not annoyed, but owing to an injury to his head he was partially demented. He is supposed to have been born and reared in Gibson or Thompson township, Susquehanna county, where he probably has relatives."

PRINTERS FIVE, K. S. H. THREE.

Fine Game of Ball at the East Side Grounds on Friday.

The Printers base ball team defeated the Kline boarding house team on the East Side grounds Friday afternoon by a score of 5 to 3. It was a well played game from start to finish and as an exhibition of clever base ball put the Towanda-Cuban Giant game in the shade.

Frisbie and Turner were the battery for the printers, and Watson and Killea for the bording housers. Corbett, a former Daily Review carrier boy, put up a star game at short for the winners. Umpire, M. Madigan. A good sized crowd, among whom were many ladies saw the contest.

Life Saving Station.

As a result of the recent drownings in Williamsport, an effort has been started to organize a life saving society in that city. A number of good swimmers have signified their intention of joining. The government will furnish, free of expense life-saving buoys and flags and signs to designate their station, and buttons and badges to denote their official positions, and also boats and medicine chests where needful, containing all remedies to resuscitate the drowning, at half their cost.

Sues for Damages.

Levi Canfield, of Wilawanna, has brought suit for damages against the Waverly, Sayre & Athens Traction company in the sum of $2,000. He claims that while riding from Waverly to Sayre on one of the company's cars he received injuries which he has not yet recovered from. As the accident occurred in Pennsylvania, should the action go far enough into court, it will be tried in Bradford county.

New Albany Mad Dog.

A hound owned by William Harris went mad last week and killed several chickens and snapped at the boys, and pitched at Mr. Harris as he was leading him towards the woods to kill him. He held the dog at arms length by the chain, and his son shot the animal while being held thus. Another dog owned by Mr. Harris went mad a year ago.

Camped Out.

John M. Rahm, with Sayre Broadhead, Philip Angle, George Dayton, Lee Fairchild and David Smith, camped out for a week recently near Spring Brook in Sulivan county. The weather was cold and fish were scary. Mr. Broadhead is the son of J. R. Broadhead, who was for many years a popular conductor on the Lehigh Valley.

Graduate in Osteopathy.

Miss Grace D. Watts of East Canton, was graduated at the American College of Osteopathic Medicine and Surgery of Chicago on June 30.

MILITARY COMPANY.

Good Chance for Athens Organization to Be Mustered in the Crack 13th.

Dr. E. B. Joachim has received assurances from Colonel Stillwell of the 13th regiment, Pennsylvania National Guard, that recent developments have made it possible to muster in the recently organized Athens military company in that crack organization.

While nothing can be done until after the state encampment in September toward formal action on the part of the state military authorities, Dr. Joachim is advised by Col. Stillwell to keep up the enthusiasm of the company and to drill them as well as posible without the equipment, which, of course, will not be forthcoming until after the company is mustered in, Now is the time for the young men, whose enthusiasm may have dropped by the discouraging delay in hearing anything definite or encouraging, to get into the game again and put themselves in shape for mustering in which will without doubt be done by October 1 if they come up to the mark.—Athens News.

CAMERON—CONEVERY.

Editor's Daughter Married to Son of Judge Cameron.

About 80 guests were gathered on Thursday afternoon in the attractive home of Editor and Mrs. Frank Conevery at Wellsboro to witness the marriage of their only daughter, Miss Mary H. Conevery and Leon B. Cameron, a son of Judge and Mrs. David Cameron.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Cameron are lifelong residents of Wellsboro. Mrs. Cameron graduated in 1901 from the Wellsboro High school. She has since been of much assistance to her father, the proprietor and editor of the Wellsboro Gazette, as a bookkeeper and as a facile writer for his newspaper. Mr. Cameron was educated in the local school and at the Mansfield Normal school and also spent a year at a Boston school. For several years he has been office asistant for his father, Judge Cameron. The bride is well known in Towanda where she has visited.

DEATH OF HENRY FISHER.

Father of Mrs. F. J. Kingsley of This Place Passed Away.

Henry Fisher died at his home in Standing Stone township Thursday morning at 2 o'clock at the advanced age of 81 years. He is survived by his wife, two daughters, Mrs. D. A. Flummerfelt of Tunkhannock and Mrs. F. J. Kingsley of this place, and two sons, P. V. and John A. Fisher. A brother, James Fisher lives at East Stroudsburg.

Mr. Fisher was a farmer by occupation and was a highly respected citizen. He held several township offices and was road commissioner for a number of years. Funeral services were held at his late home on Saturday at 2 p. m. Interment at Standing Stone cemetery.

Rector Resigns.

Rev. Frances Hurber last Sunday announced from the chancel his resignation to the Bishop of the Rectorship of the St. Paul's Episcopal church, this boro, to take effect immediately. Mr. Hurber's health has been impaired for sometime, and his resignation is to retire from the active work of the ministry for a time. Mr. Hurber will not immediately remove from Troy. Bishop Talbot has not designated a permanent supply for the vacancy here.—Troy Gazette-Register.

Mitten—Haight.

Harry T. Mitten of Oakwood, N. Y., and Miss Phebe Haight, were married at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Haight, at Athens on Wednesday evening of last week. Miss Lula Mitten was maid of honor and Robert Archer best man. The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. G. Simpson. Mr. and Mrs. Mitten are both highly regarded young people and have the best wishes of a large number of friends.

High School Minstrels.

The Towanda High school minstrels gave an entertainment at the Ulster High school on Friday night. There was but a small house out and the boys gave a performance that was considerably below what they have in the past. The absence of Bazette and Parsons, two of the best men, was a serious loss.

R. F. D. Leaving Time.

Beginning July 1 a change of time for rural mail carriers to leave the Towanda postoffice went into effect. All the carriers except, No. 2, the Burlington route, now leave at 11:30 after the arrival of the morning mail train. No. 2, going to Burlington borough, leaves as heretofore at 7 o'clock.

CUBAN GIANTS TOOK THE GAME WITH TOWANDA.

Colored Boys Made 6 and the Locals Only Scored 3.

The Towanda base ball team went down in defeat before the Cuban Giants here Thursday afternoon by a score of 6 to 3, before a crowd of 600 gentlemen and ladies and 200 crabbers. The game was loose but interesting and the Giants did some hot stuff in the coaching line. Little Satterfield at short was the king bee at this business and also gave the phenominal play of the game when he picked up a hot one through short and got his man at first.

This was the way their runs were made. In the second inning, Putnam got first on a bad throw from third to first. Lynch advanced him a base on a sacrifice. Ryan hit for two bases scoring Putnam. In the sixth M. Madigan hit through center, J. Madigan sacrificed, Putnam went out short to first but Madigan got home on the play. Towanda made her third and last run in the seventh. Cotter hit for two bases and M. Madigan who ran for him scored on Staub's hit.

The Cubans scored in the third. Watkins hit and got to third on J. Madigan's overthrow at second. He scored on William's two-bagger. They made another in the fourth, Kelley got first on error at short. Barnes hit to right and Kline threw over third base, allowing Kelly to score. Barnes was out by a close shave at home on the same play. In the sixth, Galloway got first on J. Madigan's muff of third strike. Kelley hit and Galloway scored. Brown was out at first but Kelley scored. In the seventh, Satterfield hit safe and Galloway was first and Satterfield safe on M. Madign's bad throw to Putnam. Satterfield scored on J. Madigan's overthrow to third. One more was made in the ninth, Williams coming in on Kelley's hit.

Lyons pitched a fine game for the Cubans, being cool and heady throughout. He only fanned two and allowed eight hits, but kept them well scattered. Cotter was in fine form and had he been given support would have turned the tables. He fanned nine men and allowed ten hits. J. Madigan was very weak as catcher but had worked hard all day and was not in shape to play. Klinko made a fine running catch in center for Towanda. Charles B. Meredith umpired and gave good satisfaction. The tabulated score:

Is Now an Attorney.

Claude A. Thompson has returned from Ann Arbor, where he has just been graduated from the University of Michigan law school. This gives Mr. Thompson admission to the county, superior and supreme courts of Michigan. Besides his law studies at Ann Arbor Mr. Thompson has successfully managed the daily paper issued at that institution and has taken an active part in college Republican politics. Mr. Thompson has the education and the energy which are demanded for a career in life and he will undoubtedly meet with success wherever he may see fit to locate.

Join Hospital Staff.

Two new interne physicians, Dr. H. J. Andrews of New York and Dr. Thomas E. Evans of Philadelphia, commenced a two-year term of service in the Packer hospital Saturday. Dr. Andrews was graduated this year from the college of physicians and surgeons of Cornell university. He was formerly in the employ of the Lehigh as a telegraph operator and at one time was located at Sayre. He is well known to most of the railroaders on this division. Dr. Evans is a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania.—Athens News.

In the Far West.

James P. Nevins, son of the late James H. Nevins, formerly of Towanda, is a resident of Puyallup, Pierce county, state of Washington, where he does business. He is secretry of the Valley Fair association of that place, and sends us a very nice illustrated folder descriptive of that locality. The booklet was issued by John Mills & Son, son of the late Dr. Edward Mills, formerly of Ulster.—Bradford Argus.

Resolutions By Ulster Grange.

Ulster Grange, No. 173, has adopted resolutions of respect to the memory of Robert M Knapp of Luther Mills, late a member of the order. The committee on resolutions were H. Heath, J. F. Ammerman and R. Lane.

NEEDS LOOKING AFTER.

Walks East of River Bridge Here is In Awful Condition.

The board sidewalk east of the river bridge at this place is in a dangerous condition. The boards are full of holes and on Saturday boards were so loose that they projected up some inches above the rest of the walk. At night one of these holes or loose boards may be the means of breaking some one's legs or otherwise injuring them. This sidewalk is under the control of the county and the county commissioners should remedy it at once.

It would seem that the cheapest walk that could be put down there would be a cement or granolithic one. Board walks are always expensive luxuries in the end and they often prove the cause of many bad accidents. The commissioners will make no mistake in putting down a permanent and lasting walk. It is a place that is greatly used by the traveling public and needs immediate attention. Let the board of county commissioners make this one of the things to be disposed of on record time. It may save hundreds of dollars in damages.

New Steamer's Maiden Trip.

Will Sill and Kirk Butters on Friday launched a new steam launch, much larger than the "Sal" which was put in the river some weeks ago. A party of a dozen went to Wyalusing Tuesday in the new boat, which is entirely of Towanda construction.

MOURN HAY'S DEATH

Sorrow Alike In Europe and Here Over Late Secretary.

ONLY MRS. HAY AT BEDSIDE

The End Was Too Sudden to Allow Other Members of His Family to Assemble — Burial In Cleveland, O., Next Wednesday.

Newbury, N. H., July 1.—Secretary of State John Hay died at 12:35 this morning at his Summer home, "The Fells," near Sunapee Falls.

The suddenness of it all was staggering. From the peaceful quiet of midnight The Fells, Mr. Hay's beautiful summer home on the shores of Lake Sunapee, without warning was awakened to the bewildering imminence of death where life had been felt to be assured. At the hour of 12 all was quiet. In another moment nurses and physicians found themselves summoned to the bedside. There had been a collapse. Twenty-five minutes later all was over. So swiftly had the end come that the dying man passed away unattended by any member of his family save his wife. The others, a son and a daughter, were summoned, but they reached the bedside to find their father dead.

Death was caused by pulmonary embolism, according to Dr. Scudder of Boston, chief of the attending physicians.

Consternation In Household.

The consternation of the household was complete, and Dr. Scudder had to assume charge of affairs. After two hours the physician was driven to the village, where half a dozen telegrams were dispatched. The first went to President Roosevelt at Oyster Bay. The second was addressed to the state department at Washington. The others were sent to friends of the family.

The illness which so weakened Mr. Hay's physical powers as to finally bring about death made itself apparent noticeably about last March. Tired and worn from the strain of overwork, he was ordered by his physicians to make a trip abroad in order to obtain special treatment and a complete rest. Some indication of the secretary's condition was to be found in his collapse on the steamship pier in New York city just as he was about to board the White Star liner Cretic, bound for the Mediterranean. Secretary Hay, however, was determined to continue his trip, and he was carried on board to his cabin. Wireless telegraph advices from the ship at sea told of improvement in his condition, and at Italy the secretary was so much better after a rest that he was able to journey quietly to various cities, finally going to Bad Nauheim, where he took the baths.

On June 24 he arrived at his summer home here after a visit to Washington, accompanied by his son Clarence. Mrs. Hay had preceded him.

Contracted a Cold.

The journey had fatigued the secretary, however, and, furthermore, he had contracted while traveling a slight cold. When Mr. Hay suddenly collapsed on the afternoon of the following day his wife and son became greatly alarmed, for the secretary seemed to remain in a dazed condition and not to respond to their heroic efforts to revive him. A local practitioner, Dr. J. L. Cain of Newport, was immediately summoned. As another precaution Mrs. Hay summoned by telegram from Boston Dr. Charles L. Scudder and Dr. Fred T. Murphy, surgeons on the staff of the Massachusetts General hospital. A special train was chartered, the tracks of the Boston and Maine railroad were cleared, and the physicians came to Newbury in almost record time. At first an operation was determined upon. The illness was pronounced uraemia, resulting from the severe cold which Mr. Hay had contracted and which was believed to have developed from his somewhat hurried visits to different climates.

With the administration of powerful medicines some relief came, and it was soon found that an operation could be avoided. Medicinal and other methods of treatment were continued, and the patient continued to respond favorably to them.

By Monday of last week the doctors were able to announce that Mr. Hay's condition was not at all serious and that with a few days' absolute rest he would undoubtedly again take up outdoor life. Each day since then the information given out regarding the secretary's condition had been of a most encouraging character, and the last day of his life was full of hope of recovery.

Innumerable telegrams of condolence have been received by Mrs. Hay. President Roosevelt sent the following message:

"I cannot believe the dreadful news. Pray accept our deepest sympathy in your terrible bereavement. I do not know what to say to express my sorrow."

John Hay was born at Salem, Washington county, Ind., Oct. 8, 1838, and was therefore in his sixty-sixth year. He was of Scotch descent. John Hay, the original head of the American family, settled in Virginia in 1750. His son Adam was a soldier in the Revolutionary army and a friend of Washington. He was one of the early Virginian emigrants to Kentucky, whence, owing to his hatred of slavery, he crossed the boundary into Illinois. His son, Charles Hay, father of the secretary of state, became a prosperous physician in the town of Salem, Ind. On his mother's side Mr. Hay was of English stock. His mother was a daughter of the Rev. David A. Leonard of Rhode Island.

Abe Lincoln's Friend.

On his graduation in 1858 from Brown university he began studying law at Springfield, Ill., in the office of his uncle, Malcolm Hay.

Lincoln, then living in Springfield, was already well known. His office, in a degree, was the political headquarters of the young Republican party. Malcolm Hay was one of his closest friends. John Hay and Lincoln therefore frequently met. They at once became great friends. There was much in young Hay's temperament, his humor, his mental acuteness, his kindliness, to which Lincoln readily responded. The young Brown graduate had not been many months in Springfield therefore before he was invited by Lincoln to enter his law office. This was the turning point in Hay's life. From that time until Lincoln's death he was daily associated with him.

The change, however, seriously interfered with young Hay's law studies. National politics was the chief subject studied in that famous Springfield law office. Lincoln's reputation rapidly assumed larger proportions, and by the time Hay had picked up the scanty amount of law required for admission to the bar the former had been elected president. All through the campaign Hay's services as a writer, counsellor and occasional speaker were constantly used. Hay was Lincoln's companion throughout the whole campaign of 1860, and in that period formed an intimate acquaintance with all the great party leaders. Probably no man in these latter years had a more intimate personal acquaintance with the inner history and motives of that time. Lincoln found Hay so indispensable, both as a companion and as a fellow worker, that he took him with him to Washington in 1861. Just before he started Hay was admitted to the bar, but he never practiced.

His first high office was that of first assistant secretary of state, to which he was appointed by President Hayes in 1879. This office he filled for two years. Colonel Hay was nominated ambassador to England on March 16, 1897, and during his residence at the court of St. James proved particularly acceptable both to the English and American people.

President Deeply Affected.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., July 2.—The death of Secretary Hay, so entirely unexpected, came as a personal bereavement to the president. With him the president was on terms of the warmest personal friendship. Concerning the death of Secretary Hay President Roosevelt made the following statement: "My sense of deep personal loss, great though it is, is lost in my sense of the bereavement to the whole country in Mr. Hay's death. I was inexpressively shocked, as every one was, for all of us, including Mr. Hay's immediate family, had supposed that all immediate danger was over, and I had been hoping that the rest during the summer would put him again in good health by the fall. The American people have never had a greater secretary of state than John Hay, and his loss is a national calamity."

Deep Regret In Paris.

Paris, July 2.—The death of Secretary Hay caused a profound shock in official and diplomatic quarters here. Premier Rouvier was among the first to learn the news, and he sent a dispatch expressing his deep regret and condolence. Ambassador McCormick, General Porter and the officials of the American embassy and consulate and the members of the American colony joined in expressions of grief and in tributes of respect for the dead statesman.

London's Sorrow.

London, July 2.—The death of Secretary of State John Hay called out many evidences of the affectionate esteem in which he was held in this country. Immediately after the news was conveyed to the American embassy the flag was halfmasted, and so soon as the secretary's death became known to the public a steady stream of diplomats, officials and personal friends of the secretary of state called there to leave their cards.

Funeral to Be Held In Cleveland.

Washington, July 2.—Acting Secretary of State Peirce has been advised from Oyster Bay that the president will issue instructions to those of his cabinet whom he desires to act as honorary pallbearers at Mr. Hay's funeral. Mr. Peirce also was advised that the funeral will be held in Cleveland on Wednesday.

Taft to Continue Journey.

Chicago, July 2.—Secretary Taft has received a message from President Roosevelt suggesting that he continue his journey to the Philippines and not return for the funeral of Secretary Hay. Secretary Taft will act in accordance with this suggestion.

Regret In Berlin.

Berlin, July 2.—Great regret is expressed at the foreign office at the death of Secretary Hay, who always was a friend of Germany and whom German statesmen trusted fully.

GIVE UP PROFITS.

Equitable Directors Return Proceeds of Alleged Illegal Deals.

New York, June 30.—It was announced at the office of Chairman Morton of the Equitable Life Assurance society that H. C. Deming, president of the Mercantile Trust company of this city, and Valentine P. Snyder, president of the National Bank of Commerce of this city, have returned to the Equitable society their respective shares in the profits of the syndicate known as "James H. Hyde and Associates."

The syndicate, according to the report of State Superintendent Hendricks, sold bonds to the Equitable society at a total profit of $186,107, of which Mr. Deming received $4,576 and Mr. Snyder $1,510. Both were directors of the society.

REVOLT SPREADS TO KRONSTADT

Eight Thousand Sailors Mutiny at Russia's Chief Naval Stronghold.

FIGHTING REBELS AT LIBAU.

Four Thousand Seamen In Woods Surrounded by Troops.

BLACK SEA FLEET AT ODESSA

Apparently Afraid to Attack the Kniaz Potemkine, Which Blockades the Harbor, Forbidding All Russian Vessels to Enter or Depart—City Quieting Down—Spectacular Funeral of Omelchuk, Whose Execution Started the Trouble.

St. Petersburg, June 30.—Eight thousand imperial sailors have mutinied at Cronstadt. One officer has been killed. The workmen at the admiralty docks and yards have joined the mutineers.

Cronstadt is a fortress and seaport of Russia at the head of the gulf of Finland and twenty miles west of St. Petersburg. It is situated on the east side of Kotlin island. The fortress was built under Peter the Great and of recent years has been entirely reconstructed. The port of Cronstadt is the chief station of the Russian navy.

Libau Mutineers Surrounded.

About 4,000 mutinous sailors were surrounded in a small wood near the port of Libau by infantry re-enforced by machine guns. One thousand of the mutineers surrendered and gave up their arms.

The mutiny started Wednesday night, when the sailors of the first equipage, as the naval units are known in Russia, revolted because the food was bad. They were joined immediately by the Sixth, Ninth, Thirteenth and Fifteenth equipages—5,000 bluejackets in all.

The guard at first tried to oppose them, killing one and wounding seven, but the sailors got the upper hand. They seized the guardhouse, broke open stores, securing arms and ammunition. Pandemonium followed throughout the night. They wrecked the barracks, attacked the quarters of the officers and fired volleys at random until morning. The city was terrorized when troops and artillery arrived. All entrances to the city were closed, and gradually the sailors were driven into the woods, which they have since held.

Much firing, mingled with the humming of machine guns, has been heard, but as every one is forced by the police to keep off the streets and away from the ports, some distance belown town, nothing is definitely known except that 1,000 mutineers have surrendered.

Mutineers Blockade Odessa.

A dispatch from Odessa says that the battleship Kniaz Potemkine has established a blockade of the port in regard to all steamers flying the Russian flag. Not one is allowed to enter or depart, and six of these steamers are now anchored in the roads under the battleship's guns.

The port is thus in the extraordinary position of being blockaded on the sea side by a mutinous warship, while the land side is impassable owing to a military cordon which seals up every approach to the harbor.

Three warships of the Black sea fleet have arrived at Odessa for the purpose of taking measures against the mutinous crew of the Kniaz Potemkine. However, no action has yet been taken nor has the commander of the squadron indicated his intentions.

Comparative calm has been restored within the city, but disorder continues in the harbor section, where considerable parts of the wharfs and docks have been burned. So far nine vessels have been destroyed. Precise information is not given in the official advices, but they are understood to further confirm the press reports that the dead and wounded number several hundred.

Omelchuk's Funeral at Odessa.

The funeral at Odessa of Omelchuk, the sailor whose execution caused the mutiny on the Kniaz Potemkine, was one of the most remarkable incidents in Russian history. For two hours the city was given over wholly to the funeral of this unknown seaman, buried with honors which would hardly have been accorded the commanding officer of the czar's navy.

Odessa lay under the guns of the Potemkine and could not resent the insult offered by the revolutionists. A funeral worthy the martyr whose death had bred their liberty was demanded, and it was accorded by the civil and military authorities.

Early in the afternoon the captain of the crew of the Potemkine signaled to the captain of the port to inform him that he intended to land a party of marines with the ship's band to bury the body of Sailor Omelchuk in the military cemetery in Odessa. The warning was sent that if the authorities attempted to interfere with the funeral the city would be shelled at once with the twelve inch guns of the Potemkine.

THE NEW ROAD LAW.

Measure Passed by the Last State Legislature.

A GOOD CLIPPING TO KEEP.

Appplies to All Townships of the Second Class in the Commonwealth—Full Text of Law's Provisions Given Below.

A new act in relation to the government of second-class townships was passed by the last legislature. The laws of this state provide that townships shall be divided into two classes, those of the first class consisting of townships having a population of 300 to the square mile and all others shall be of the second class. All of the townships of this county are of the second class. The provisions of the new act are given below in full and should be preserved:

Section 1. Be it enacted, &c., That in every township of the second class in this Commonwealth, the qualified voters thereof shall, on the third Tuesday of February, one thousand nine hundred and six, elect one person to serve one year, one person to serve two years, and one person to serve three years, who shall be styled road supervisors; and at each township election thereafter, they shall elect one person to serve three years: Provided, That in any township which now has three supervisors, or other officers having charge of roads, elected under existing laws, no new election under this section shall be required except as the terms of said road officers expire.

Section 2. The road supervisors of each township shall meet at the place where the auditors of the respective townships meet to perform their official duties, on the first Monday of March, one thousand nine hundred and six, and yearly thereafter; and after being duly sworn or affirmed, according to law, to discharge their duties with fidelity, a copy of the oath to be filed with the township auditors, shall organize as a board, by selecting one of their number as chairman, and one as secretary, and shall appoint one person as their treasurer, who shall not be a member thereof; and shall proceed immediately to levy a road tax, which shall not exceed ten mills on each dollar of valuation; this valuation shall be the last adjusted valuation for county purposes, and which shall be furnished to said road supervisors by the commissioners of the proper county: Provided, That a greater rate than ten mills, and not to exceed ten additional mills, may be levied by order of the court of quarter sessions of the peace of that county, upon the petition of the board of supervisors, with their unanimous recommendation, and upon due cause shown: And provided further, That upon every taxable the road supervisors of each township shall assess the sum of one dollar, in addition to the millage tax shown: And provided further, That every township may, by a majority vote of the electors thereof, at the February municipal election, after thirty days' prior notice thereof, change the system of taxation for working the public roads. Such election shall be authorized by the court of quarter sessions, upon a petition of at least twenty-five taxpayers of said township; and any such township, which shall have abolished the work tax, shall annually receive from the state fifteen per centum of the amount of the road tax collected in said township, as shown by a sworn statement of the board of township supervisors, furnished to the State Highway Commissioner on or before the fifteenth day of March in each year. The said statement shall show the amount of tax assessed, as well as the amounted collected. Upon receipt of the sworn statement from the board of township supervisors, it shall be the duty of the State Highway Commissioner to draw a warrant upon the State Treasury for the payment of the said fifteen per centum, which shall be paid out of any moneys in the Treasury not otherwise appropriated: Provided, That before issuing the duplicate and warrant for the collection of road taxes it shall be the duty of the board of suervisors of every township that has not abolished the work tax, to give notice to all persons rated for such taxes, by advertisement or otherwise, to attend at such times and places as such supervisors may direct, so as to give such persons full opportunity to work out their respective taxes.

Section 3. It shall be the duty of the board of road supervisors, immediately after their organization as a board, to divide their township into road districts, of not less than five miles of road to each district, and they shall employ a roadmaster for each district, whose duty it shall be to work upon the roads himself and to see that the work done on the roads in his district or division is in accordance with plans and specifications furnished him by the road supervisors, to oversee the men employed, while at work on the roads and keep the time of each man working under him, and report, under oath, to the road commissioners as often as they require. Road supervisors may require the roadmasters to give bond, with the approved security, for faithful performance of their duties; and said road masters shall at all times be subject to removal by the board of road supervisors. The road supervisors from time to time shall fix the wages to be paid, per hour, to roadmasters and laborers, for work on the roads and bridges: Provided, however, That nothing in this act shall prohibit the board of supervisors from making a contract with any citizen of the township, for the keeping in repair of not more than three miles of road; no contract to extend over three years; and no contract to be given unless approved of, and signed by, at least two of the board of township supervisors. Every contractor for road work shall give a bond for the amount of said contract.

Section 4. The board of road supervisors shall have full control of roadmasters and employment of laborers, and is authorized also to purchase such material, scrapers, plows, stone-crushers, rollers and other road-machines, tools and property, as shall in its judgment be necessary for making and repairing roads and bridges; the same to be the property of the township, used exclusively for township purposes, and to be properly taken care of by said board of road supervisors. Said road supervisors are hereby authorized to join with the road supervisors of one or more of the other townships, or the proper authorities of boroughs, in their respective counties, in the purchase of such road-making implements and machines as, in their judgment, may be too expensive to justify such purchase by said township alone; the same to belong to such townships or boroughs in proportion to the amount paid therefor by each, and the right to use the same to be reguluated by agreement to be made between said road supervisors or borough authorities, at the time of joining in said purchase: Provided, That said joint ownership shall only continue during such period as may be agreeable to all of said joint owners, and either board or road supervisors or borough authorities may, at any time, elect to sever said joint ownership as to any or all of said implements and machines. In case terms cannot be amicably agreed upon, either of said joint owning townships or boroughs may, by its board of supervisors or proper borough authorities present its petition to the court of quarter sessions of the peace, setting forth the facts, verified by affidavit; which court, after notice and opportunity to be heard, shall then make such order for the sale or disposal of said joint property as will be right and proper in such case.

Section 5. The treasurer appointed by the board shall be required to give bond, with at least two sufficient sureties, to be approved by the auditors of the township, conditioned that the said treasurer shall well and truly account for and pay over all moneys collected and received by him for road purposes, according to law; and such bond shall be filed with the township auditors. He shall pay out moneys received by him as road taxes, only on written order of the road supervisors setting forth the purpose for which the order is given, signed by the chairman and attested by the secretary thereof.

Section 6. The road supervisors of each township shall make, or cause to be made, a duplicate, designating the amount of road tax levied against each taxpayer of the township, and deliver the same to their treasurer, who shall, within ten days after receiving said duplicates give a written notice to all taxable persons of the amount of tax that has been assessed against them; and shall also give him a warrant to collect the tax, which shall be collected as follows, namely: To all taxpayers who pay their road tax before June first of each year, to the treasurer, an abatement of five per centum shall be made; on all road taxes paid to the treasurer between June first and November first, of each year, the taxpayers will be required to pay the full amount of the road tax levied against them; and on the first of November, in each year, the treasurer shall make out a list of all delinquent taxpayers with the amount of the road tax levied against each, with five per centum added thereto, as a penalty for such delinquency, and deliver the same to the township collector, who shall immediately proceed to collect the same, and make payment thereof to the treasurer of the board as soon as received; and the collector shall be responsible to the township for the collection of such tax, and shall receive for his services the five per centum in penalty added. The treasurer shall receive, as compensation for his services, such amount as the board of supervisors may prescribe, not exceeding two per centum of all moneys received and distributed by him.

Section 7. The road supervisors shall meet for the transaction of business once each month, at a time to be fixed by the board; and the board may be allowed for necessary expenses, including office rent and stationery, light and fuel, to be paid out of the township road funds.

Section 8. In all cases where a vacancy occurs in the board of road supervisors, from any cause, the court of quarter sessions of the peace of the proper county shall, upon petition of the remaining members of the board, appoint a successor to fill the office until the next election for township officers: Provided, That such vacancy happens at least thirty days before said election; if less than thirty days before said election, the person so appointed shall fill the office until the next election thereafter for township officers and until a successor is duly elected and qualified.

Section 9. The board of road supervisors shall annually submit, under oath, to the board of township auditors a full and itemized statement of their accounts of the preceeding year; and the township auditors shall audit, settle and adjust such accounts, in the same manner and with effect as other acounts of township officers are audited and settled.

Section 10. The board of road supervisors of the several townships shall annually, on or before the fifteenth day of March in each and every year, make a report to the State Highway Commissioner, on blanks furnished to them by the State Highway Commissioner, of the whole amount of money raised during the preceding year by taxation for road purposes; specifying in such report the amount expended for maintenance or repairs of roads, for opening and building of new roads, and for macadamizing or otherwise permanently improving roads, and the number of miles thus made; together with the names and addresses of the chairman and secretary of the board, and such other matters and things as the State Highway Comissioner may require. And it shall be the duty of the State Highway Commissioner, not later than the first day of February of each year, to forward the aforesaid blanks to the several boards of supervisors. It shall be the duty of the prothonotary in each county, not later than the first of April of each year, to certify to the State Highway Commissioner the names of all the supervisors of the respective townships in said county.

Section 11. The board of road supervisors shall keep the minutes of their proceedings, and such books as they may find necessary in the performance of their duties; all of which shall be open for the inspection of any taxpayer, at all reasonable times, and which shall be submitted for the information of the township auditors when said auditors meet to audit the accounts of the treasurer and other township officers and shall deliver such books, papers and accounts to their successors.

Section 12. It shall not be lawful for any road supervisor to be interested, either directly or indirectly, in any work done, purchase made, or contract relating to roads and bridges, nor to furnish any materials therefor. Any person knowingly violating the provisions of this section shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and, on conviction therefor, shall be sentenced to pay a fine not exceding five hundred dollars, or to be imprisoned for a term not exceeding six months, both or either, at the discretion of the court.

Section 13. If any road supervisor roadmaster or contractor, employed to work on the roads, bridges and highways of this Commonwealth, shall violate any of the provisions of this act, or shall fail, neglect or refuse to carry out the same, he shall pay a fine of not more than fifty dollars, to be collected in the name of the township, as other debts of like amount, and paid to the township treasurer, for the use of the road fund of said township.

Section 14. The road supervisors of the several townships of this Commonwealth, elected or appointed in pursuance of this act, shall perform all the duties imposed by the existing laws on supervisors of roads, bridges and highways; and shall be subject to the same responsibilities and penalties that supervisors are now subject to, except in so far as changed or supplied by the terms of this act.

Section 15. Two shall constitute a quorum of the board of supervisors.

Section 16. All acts or parts of acts, general, special or local, inconsistent herewith or supplied hereby be and the same are hereby repealed: Provided, however, That the act, entitled "An act enabling the taxpayers of townships and road districts to contract for making, at their own expense, the roads, and paying salaries of township or road district officers, and thereby preventing the levy and collection of road tax therein," approved June twelfth, one thousand eight hundred and ninety-three; and the acts entitled "An act to provide for the permanent improvement of certain public roads or highways in the several counties of this Commonwealth, making such improved roads and highways county roads, authorizing the relocation, opening, straightening, widening, extension and alteration of the same, and the vacation of so much of any road as may therefor become necessary, authorizing the taking of property for such improvement, and providing the compensation therefor, and the damages resulting from such taking; providing for the payment of the costs incurred in making such improvement, and in thereafter repairing and maintaining said road, and authorizing the levy of a tax to provide a fund for said purposes," approved the twenty-sixth day of June Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and ninety-five; also, "An act to provide for the classification of the townships of the Commonwealth, with respect to their population, into two classes, and to prescribe the form of government for townships of each class, approved April twenty-eighth, one thousand eight hundred and ninety-nine; also "An act to amend 'An act to provide for the classification of the townships of the Commonwealth, with respect to their population, into two classes, and to prescribe the form of government for townships of each class,' approved April twenty-eighth, one thousand eight hundred and ninety-nine," approved the twenty fourth day of May, one thousand nine hundred and one, shall not be repealed hereby, but shall continue in full force and effect.

APPROVED—The 12th day of April A. D., 1905.

Why?

Why, when buying a book, are we influenced by the author's name? Why, by an artist's, if we purchase a picture.

It is because the name attached is the safeguard of the buyer—a protection against the palming off of inferior articles.

This "name guarantee" we all look for in the most important things we buy, and what can be more important than our food.

Everybody knows that all intelligent housekeepers are very particular about the buying of things to eat and drink, and nobody realizes it more than the up-to-date grocer, who caters to the wants of his customers.

For instance, every real grocer knows the reason for the universal popularity of Lion Coffee, the leader of all package coffees. He knows that its uniform purity and high quality have made it welcome in millions of American homes for over a quarter of a century.

Realizing this, he cannot but hand it out cheerfully when asked for it. He knows that the people accept the package as a guarantee of the contents.

Yet there may be a few grocers left who do not recognize that the buyer—not the seller—has the right of choice, and they may want to sell their loose coffee (who knows what it is, or where it came from?) instead of Lion Coffee, which the customer asks for, and the merits of which both know.

In such cases the wisest advice is: "Change your dealer."

NEW YORK FASHIONS

Pattern For Girl's Suspender Suit by Martha Dean—No. 4645

A charming fashion now becoming a fixed one is the wearing of shirt waist or suspender suits by the little daughter as well as her older sister. Shirt waists proper have never been accepted as generally becoming to girlish figures, but these suspender suits seem to fill a long felt want. The skirt and shoulder straps are made of one material, while the blouse may be of an entirely different kind. Usually the one skirt and straps do service for half a dezen waists, which are little more than full guimpes, and every mother knows how much easier they are made and laundered than a dress. If one has an old dress that has grown shabby this is a good model to follow in making it up for the smaller girl. It cuts to good advantage, and there is no doubt as to there being enough material. The guimpes may be made of old shirt waists, although one can buy remnants so cheaply that it hardly pays to "make over" an article that is much worn. Gingham dresses with white lawn guimpes will be much worn the coming season, although the model is used in silk and lightweight woolens as well. Sizes, 5 to 12 years.

Pattern For an Attractive Blouse Designed by Martha Dean—No. 6308

The girl who is handy with her needle nowadays need not want for interesting and useful work. She need not be a dressmaker to fashion the choicest of blouses and frocks. Never was there such a demand for handmade things, and the girl who will give some time to plying the needle may be just twice as smart in her summer gowns as her richer cousin who can have them all made, but who does not know how to embellish them. This blouse model is simple in construction and admirably adapted to hand embroidery or insets of lace. The broad tuck extending over the shoulder adds breadth to the shoulder and taper to the waist. A second tuck at each side of the front gives the broad center panel effect which is very becoming to most figures. A strip of Mexican drawn work might be set in the center of the front or wheels of the dainty Tenerife lace. The popular English eyelet work might serve as adornment or a design in the stuffed embroidery. The embroidered monogram is always a smart touch upon a shirt waist and should be done with heavy white linen. This model might be developed in white linen, lawn, organdie or india mull. Rajah or pongee will prove pleasing, as would wash silk or taffetas. Six sizes, 32 to 42 inches bust measure.

CUTICURA

Soap, Ointment and Pills the World's Greatest Skin Cures.

PRICE THE SET $1

Complete Treatment for Every Humour, from Pimples to Scrofula.

The agonizing itching and burning of the skin, as in eczema; the frightful scaling, as in psoriasis; the loss of hair and crusting of the scalp, as in scalled head; the facial disfigurement, as in pimples and ringworm; the awful suffering of infants and the anxiety of worn-out parents, as in milk crust, tetter and salt rheum, all demand a remedy of almost superhuman virtues to successfully cope with them. That Cuticura Soap, Ointment and Pills are such stands proven beyond all doubt. No statement is made regarding them that is not justified by the strongest evidence. The purity and sweetness, the power to afford immediate relief, the certainty of speedy and permanent cure, the absolute safety and great economy, have made them the standard skin cures and humour remedies of the civilized world.

The grandest testimonial that can be offered the Cuticura remedies is their world-wide sale, due to the personal recommendations of those who have used them. From a small beginning in the simplest form, against prejudice and opposition, against monied hosts, countless rivals, and trade indifference, Cuticura remedies have become the greatest curatives of their time, and, in fact, of all time, for nowhere in the history of medicine is to be found another approaching them in popularity and sale. In every clime and with every people they have met with the same reception. The confines of the earth are the only limits to their growth. They have conquered the world.

Sold throughout the world. Cuticura Resolvent, 50c. (in form of Chocolate Coated Pills, 25c. per vial of 60), Ointment, 50c., Soap, 25c. Depots: London, 27 Charterhouse Sq.; Paris, 5 Rue de la Paix; Boston, 137 Columbus Ave. Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., Sole Proprietors.

SUNDAY'S STORM DID HAVOC AT ELMIRA.

Property Heavily Damaged in Terrific Down Pour—Life Lost at Pine City.

In Sunday's downpour Elmira was hit about the hardest of any place on the map, says The Advertiser. To place the damage done to property in Elmira at $35,000 or $40,000 would be conservative, as some placed the loss to property owners on the East Side of the city as high as that.

Two Distinct Storms.

There was two distinct storms there. The first was a local storm, which approached the city from the north at 1:30 o'clock, and brought with it large quantities of rain which flooded the entire northern part of the city for a few minutes, and the other was the terrible general storm, which wrought great damage over a strip of territory extending southwest of the city for 30 miles and was not more than five miles wide in any place.

This was the storm which cost lives of men and property and which devastated the entire valley southwest of the city traversed by the Tioga branch of the Erie railroad and the northern part of that traversed by the Northern Central road. This storm arose with a suddenness never before experienced and traveled over its course with such rapidity that people had insufficient time to remove their live stock to places of safety, and many head of cattle and horses were carried away. In instances where persons endeavored to save their stock they risked their lives and many extremely narrow escapes were reported.

Loss of Life.

At Pine City, four miles from Elmira, Martin Adee, proprietor of a general store and one of the best known citizens of the section, was drowned while endeavoring to save some live stock from the ravages of Seeley creek. His body has not been found.

EMBRACED BY BIG SNAKE.

Surveyors Have a Lively Experience on Mountain.

R. V. Rogers, Esq., of Renovo, formerly of Hughesville and R. W. A. Jameson, of Lock Haven, while surveying on the mountains the other day had an experience they will remember for some time, says the Hughesville Mail.

The gentlemen were interested in some timber land, and their work had proceeded without unusual incident until about 3 o'clock in the afternoon. Rogers having become thirsty started in search of water. He was traveling several yards ahead of Jameson when suddenly the latter heard an awful scream and looking ahead saw a large black snake coiling about the body of his paralyzed companion.

Jameson carried a hatchet or small hand ax with which to cut away the under brush and with this raised in the air hastened to the assistance of Rogers. Getting within striking distance of his snakeship with a well directed blow Jameson severed the head of the reptile and saved the life of the thoroughly frightened disciple of Blackstone. The snake was over five feet in length and was as thick as one's arm. Rogers says it was lying in his pathway and he stepped upon it and felt it twining its slimy body about him.

WISHES MORE MEMBERS.

Village Improvement Society Will Solicit for Names.

This is to inform the people of Towanda that a membership committee has been appointed by the Village Improvement society to receive and solicit members for the society. Last month we added to the roll of new members and renewals 41 names. The society is anxious to get as many as possible before the next meeting and makes this appeal to all friends of the society who are willing to join, to hand in their names with the fee to some one of the committee. Ladies (honorary members) 25 cents, gentlemen, 50 cents per year. No one is counted a member until fee is paid.

The society wishes to do much work toward beautifying Towanda this season, and they ask the help of every person in town. Join the society, pay the fee, attend the meetings. By so doing all will help on a great work and indirectly improve and make more valuable every piece of property in the borough. Any one of the following committee will be pleased to take in your name: Mrs. Geo. Ridgeway, Misses Grace M. Decker, Myra B. Smith, Helen Powell, Harriet B. Macfarlane, Emily Osborne, Lucy Hoagland.

Another Picture For Sheriff's Gallery.

Sheriff Robinson has recently received a picture of Lockwood Smith, Jr., sheriff of Bradford county from 1830 to '33, and will have a large picture made to add to the gallery of former sheriffs. Mr. Robinson is anxious to complete this collection of pictures so far as it is possible to do so before his term expires. There are picture in existence of two others which he has as yet been unable to obtain and of one or two of the earlier incumbents of the office there are no pictures in existence.

The Fish Shrunk.

C. A. Burdick, a Smithport man, with several other enthuastic anglers hired a game warden to spend some time looking up offenders of the law. The other day Burdick was fishing and the warden asked to see his fish. All of them were to the good except one that was just a quarter of an inch shy. Burdick claimed that when he caught it he measured it and it was plump six inches. Justice of the peace [illegible] $10 fine however.

ITHACA BRANCH.

Road Opened After Week's Closing—Washouts Nearly Repaired.

Supt. Kinney of the Pennsylvania division of the Lehigh, announced on Thursday morning that the Ithaca branch of the road would be open for business that night, after being closed for one week and one day on account of the terrific flood.

There are still 1,000 men at work on that branch making repairs to the damages caused by the flood. The roadbed is rapidly resuming a normal condition but there still remains a large fill to be made near Newfield station. When this work is completed, the roadbed will be practically as good as before the flood. The washouts between West Danby and Ithaca have cost the road an enormous sum of money.

MR. CARROLL RESIGNED.

Meeting of Democratic County Committee to Elect Successor.

A meeting of the members of the Democratic county committee will be held at this place on July 10 to elect a chairman in place of Frank J. Carroll, Esq., who has resigned and whose resignation has been filed with N. F. Walker of Athens, secretary of the committee.

Mr. Carroll is at present in the west and his resignation was tendered for the reason that he would not be here to attend to the duties of the office.

The First Question.

Many a merchant who lies awake all night devising plans for the most advantageous use of his floor space gives comparatively little attention to the advantageous use of advertising space. The first question ought not to be how to handle the crowds when they visit the store, but how to get them there. The home newspaper solves the problem. It is a faithful messenger which carries the daily store news direct to those who are most anxious to keep posted.—Philadelphia Record.

The two great mediums for Towanda merchants to use in filling their stores with customers are The Daily Review, and The Reporter-Journal.

Was an Odd Fellow.

W. H. Hall, of Cortland, N. Y., while on a trip to California last year, lost a wallet containing over $1,300 which he had placed under his pillow in the berth and the porter shook it out of the window when airing the coverings. It was picked up by an Odd Fellow, who found inside the purse a receipt for dues paid a Cortland lodge of Odd Fellows. He communicated with the secretary, and securing Hall's address, returned him the money. This was indeed a "brother."

Mr. Wells's Condition.

J. Eppes Wells who went to Sankey to visit his wife's people, Mr. and Mrs. David McCain, was taken much worse but has been somewhat improved for the last few days. In accordance with directions by his physicians he is to live out of doors in a tent, on a diet of raw eggs and milk. Mrs. David McCain who is quite poorly will take the same treatment.—Meshoppen Enterprise.

Port Jervis Suspect in Athens.

Photographs of the man held at Port Jervis on suspicion of being one of the men implicated in the murder of Officer Fenner at Troy, have been identified by two Athens men as pictures of a man they saw in Athens on the day before the crime was done.

A New Editor.

The first number of the New Albany Mirror under its new editor and proprietor, H. M. Wilcox of Dushore, appeared last week. Mr. Wilcox gets out a well written paper and printed neatly. His brothers in journalism in this county will wish him success.

Thomas Swift Hurt.

Thomas Swift of Meshoppen was struck by a train near Dayton's mill on Sunday morning but luckily escaped with no serious injuries. His face was skinned up and cinders ploughed their way into the man's physiognomy.

McCraney—Bailey.

NEWELL'S HEN NERVOUS FROM HIGH LIVING.

Stimulant Taken Away They Resumed Business.

The editor of this paper has a flock of hens, and he was recently puzzled over the dimunition of the egg supply. Another curious fact was that the hens, and also the roosters, would frequently break out in the middle of the night and cackle and take on dreadfully. Daytimes they walked about dejectedly, jumped, twitched turned around and cackled hysterically. We had been feeding them the contents of the slop pail once a day, which always contained the coffee grounds and we finally had the coffee grounds disposed of in some other manner, and we were delighted to see the poultry recover its wonted sedateness of manner and rest good nights. They were simply nervous from eating so many coffee grounds, and positively could not sit still long enough to lay. Three days after shutting off their coffee we harvested fourteen eggs and there were but nine hens and one small rooster in the flock.—Sullivan Review.

CRAZY MAN'S DEED.

Struck His Mother and Seriously Injured an Aged Woman.

Mrs. Phoebe Waterman, an aged lady, lies at the point of death at the home of Mrs. Lucina Woodruff, about a mile above Skinners Eddy, on the Tuscarora creek. Mrs. Woodruff has a son, Daniel, frequently called "Crazy Dan" aged about 45 years, and who resides with his mother, Daniel was hoeing potatoes on Monday afternoon and thought to do the job properly the tops should be covered with dirt. His mother and Mrs. Waterman, who was visiting Mrs. Woodruff tried to persuade the demented man to do the work differently, when he knocked his mother down with his fist and then threw a large stone at Mrs. Waterman, striking her over the temple and fracturing the skull. The wound bled profusely and the injured woman was carried to the house and it is feared that she will not recover.

A few years ago Woodruff was in the insane department of the Bradford county poor house for several years and steps are now being taken to have him returned to that or some other safe place.—Laceyville Messenger.

Constable Fred R. Mitten of Wyalusing last week Wednesday brought the crazy man to Towanda and lodged him in jail. He will be sent to an asylum.

A Special Opportunity

There are thousands upon thousands of commodities that are helpful in relieving the sufferings of humanity in hot weather.

There are cool garments, refreshing beverages, foods specially adapted for summer consumption, and an endless array of indoor and outdoor furnishings that make the heat more bearable. Most of these articles are advertised. Some of them are not. This is the time to bring forward those that have not had their due share of publicity

The merchant who can contribute his mite toward lowering or appearing to lower the temperature by even half a degree, and who fails to shout it out from the housetops, is losing a special opportunity to increase his business.—Philadelphia Record.

New Restaurant in Towanda.

The vacant store in the Biedelman block on Bridge street, formerly occupied by James Shiner, is being handsomely fitted up for the occupancy of H. Burns, who will open the Philadelphia quick lunch room. Mr. Burns comes from the central part of the state. He intends to make a specialty of oysters and clams in their season.

Those Demmed Furriners.

Francisco Muzzleno, an Italian section hand, was shot in Galeton on the evening of June 19 as he was crossing the iron bridge on Union street. No clue as to the would-be assassin has been obtained. The bullet entered the right side, but probing failed to locate it. It perforated one lung. Muzzleno was taken to the Austin hospital.

REPRESENTATIVES MORSE AND HOYT WRITE ABOUT RIPPERS.

Would Vote for Their Repeal if People of Philadelphia Want It.

The Philadelphia Press is securing an expression of opinion from members of the past legislature concerning their views on the repeal of the bills passed which took away from the Mayor of Philadelphia the power to appoint his heads of departments. In two of these departments the bills passed were aproved by the governor and two were not approved. The Press also wants to know where the representatives stand on the personal registration bill. The following letter are from Hon. W. D. Morse of Troy, and Hon. L. T. Hoyt of Athens, two of the representatives from this county in the last legislature:

From Representative Morse.

Being a member of the recent Legislature in which the Scott-Crout bill, which, in a measure, was intended to repeal certain sections of the Bullitt bill, was considered, my action as a new member was prompted solely by a desire to give your city such form of government as I believed the majority of your citizens demanded. My information was founded upon a solid vote or nearly so in both branches of the Legislature.

I still believe that the same motive shall prompt me to action and in the event that the majority of the people of your city desire to retain the same form of government as provided under the Bullitt bill, then it shall be my pleasure to vote for the repeal of the Scott-Crout bill. I consider that the bill is local, and in no manner are the country members interested in the measure farther than to give each and every city the right to have such local laws as to them seem to their best interest.

I am in favor of personal registration in cities under proper regulation, but am opposed to the measure when applied to country districts.

Troy. WILLARD D. MORSE.

From Representative Hoyt.

I voted for the so-called ripper bills at the last session of the Legislature for the reason that the measures applied to the city of Philadelphia only and were advocaed by the members from that city, whom I believe were far better competent to judge of the proper municipal government of Philadelphia than I, who have never lived in the city, could possibly be.

For the same reasons, if the citizens of Philadelphia, through their Representatives in the Legislature should ask for a repeal of these laws, I would certainly vote in favor of the repeal.

I am in favor of a personal registration law and will most cheerfully vote for a proper measure embodying that principle.

Athens. L. T. HOYT.

BRIDGE WORKERS QUIT.

Worked Stopped on the Ulster Bridge Because of Strike Elsewhere.

The union bridge workers employed by the Pittsburg Construction company on the bridge at Ulster being erected by the state, quit work on Tuesday of last week in obedience to the strike order which has been issued against the Pennsylvania Steel Co., the concern that is furnishing the superstructure thereby tying up further work on the bridge until the grievances are adjusted.

The orders to quit work came on Friday, but the men were allowed to complete the first span that the false work might be removed and prevent possible damage by high water. In all 25 men are effected, 19 of them being union bridge rectors.

NEW TRIAL REFUSED.

Judge Fanning So Decides in the Case of Charles Johnson.

Judge Fanning Monday afternoon discharged the rule for a new trial in the case of Charles Johnson, who was convicted at the December sessions of oyer and terminer court of the murder of Maggie B. Johnson, his brother's wife.

Charley's counsel, Lilley & Wilson, asked for a newtrial, setting forth 25 points on which they alleged that their client had been aggrieved. It was expected that sentence would be immediately passed, but the prisoner's attorneys were out of town.

Identified King.

David J. Bibighaus, electrican at Wyalusing, came to Towanda last week and identified Edward King, confined at the county jail, as the man he had seen at Wyalusing about 6 o'clock on the evening before the Camptown burglary. Bibighaus walked with King and talked with him. King claimed that he reached Wyalusing about 1 o'clock the same morning that the burglary occurred and Bibighaus's testimony goes to show that King testified falsely concerning his whereabouts.

Death of Robert E. Sheridan.

Robert E. Sheridan, an old and respected citizen of Athens, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. D. E. Shannon, in Canton, on Wednesday morning of last week after a long illness. He was born in Ireland 66 years ago, and for 40 years had lived in Athens. He is survived by his wife and two daughters, Mrs. Shannon and Miss Honora A. Sheridan of New York city. The funeral services and interment will be at Canton.
